Reds Dramatize Spy Plot Charges; Display Turncoats

BERLIN (AP) — The Soviet Embassy in East Berlin held its first news conference in four years today in an effort to dramatize Russian charges that West Berlin is a hotbed of Western spies against the Russian Communist regime.

The Soviets trotted out two Russians — a 29-year-old Soviet army lieutenant and a Moscow circus acrobat—who they claimed had deserted to the West, broadcast for the Americans and then had a change of heart.

Russian spokesman J. W. Beburov charged that a Western campaign of anti-Soviet propaganda and activity to undermine the Soviet government is "not only endangering the Soviet Union and the other Socialist (Communist) lands but also all humanity.

The news conference, attended by more than 300 Western and Communist newsmen, was another step in the new Soviet offensive to drive Allied occupation forces out of West Berlin.

The East German Communists are swaggering.

The West Germans are worried.

The United States, Britain and France have been forced to reappraise their refusal to deal with the East German satellite regime.

Khrushchev got these results with the verbal shock treatment. The Soviet premier demanded Nov. 10 that the Allies abandon their occupation of West Berlin. He promised to hand over Soviet occupation powers in East Berlin to the East Germans.

Pravda said today the Soviet government "is unshakeable in its decision" to change the occupation status of Berlin. Western approval is not needed for the Kremlin to carry out its decisions, the Communist party newspaper added. Moscow radio broadcast the article.

So far the Russians and their East German satellite leaders have talked without acting. But the talk startled the West into reexamining its policies when Khrushchev hinted at a possible new Berlin blockade.

Two Crewmen Critically Hurt In Vessel Blast

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The Coast Guard Search and Rescue headquarters here said the fishing trawler, Valiant Lady, was ripped by an explosion and caught fire in the Gulf of Mexico early today and two crewmen aboard are critically injured.

A spokesman for the Coast Guard said the trawler, 200 miles southeast of New Orleans in the Gulf, was still burning and that two seacraft from Biloxi and St. Petersburg, Fla., are en route to the scene with the cutter, the Cartigan.

The two injured crewmen were not identified, but a Coast Guardsman here said the men both had broken legs. Another fishing vessel, the Buccaneer, was standing by and had taken the injured men aboard.

RENDER AID

One, captain of the Valiant Lady, was 29-years-old and suffered burns over 40 per cent of his body. The second man, said the Coast Guard, was crushed in the lower abdomen and legs when he leaped from the burning vessel to the rescue boat.

Since the vessel was too far at sea for a helicopter to be dispatched to pick up the men, a Coast Guard seaplane from St. Petersburg, Fla., was sent to the area with a medical corpsman aboard. Radio SOS's have been sent by the Coast Guard to all boats and ships in the area to determine if there is a doctor aboard any of the vessels who could move to the area and render aid.

Physicians at the U. S. Public Health Service hospital in New Orleans said the two injured men should be air evacuated as quickly as possible for treatment of their injuries.

The Coast Guard spokesman said the men "are in very bad shape and all possible aid is being rushed to them."

The Coast Guard was notified by other fishing vessels in the area of the burning ship.

Sailor Terrorizes Shipmates, One Shot During Ride

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — A 22-year-old sailor, awaiting court-martial, terrorized shipmates on the picket ship USS Investigator today, then forced three to accompany him at gunpoint and shot one during a wild auto ride through East Boston and Chelsea.

The sailor, Raymond J. Lizzotte of Poplar, Mont., who the Navy said is a full-blooded Indian, was captured later in Providence, R.I., after he burst into a lodging house and demanded clothing.

Patrolman George Gilbert captured him half a block away. In a struggle, he knocked out Lizzotte.

Wounded in the affray in East Boston was Donald Hicks, 19, of Atlanta, Ga. Naval authorities said Lizzotte shot him in the jaw when he failed to follow driving instruction. Hicks was reported in satisfactory condition.

Navy officials said Lizzotte was confined to the ship awaiting a summary court-martial today. They did not specify the charges.

BOARDED SHIP

Lizzotte began his terror reign, the Navy said, shortly after 1 a.m. in a washroom aboard the ship when he fired two shots at Howard Holliday, 23, of Peking, Ill.; Willie Charles Arrington, 24, of Alabama; and Sam Payne, 21, of Baltimore, Md.

Lizzotte then ran to an upper deck where he confronted two men on watch—Robert Brown, 32, of Brockton, Mass., and Terrence Thompson, 19, of Janesville, Wis.

Lizzotte ordered Brown and Thompson to accompany him off the ship and as they were reasoning with him, Hicks and Jackie

Nixon, Johnson Ready To Lead Filibuster Row

Demo Leader Has Big Stake In Avoiding Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) apparently are preparing to take the lead toward compromising an impending fight over the Senate's filibuster rule.

Nixon has told friends he is confident the present rule — which requires 66 affirmative votes to curb debate — is going to be changed as the first order of business when the newly enlarged Senate meets in January.

As presiding officer, the vice president has made it clear he will hold in order a motion to adopt new Senate rules. In the past, the Senate traditionally has carried its rules over from one Congress to the next.

Any such precedent-breaking decision by Nixon is certain to be appealed to the Senate and to be settled by a majority of its membership, raised to 98 by the addition of two new senators from Alaska.

The vice president evidently expects to go beyond such a ruling, however, and work actively toward some compromise that will make it easier to shut off the time-consuming talk which has blocked most civil rights legislation.

As an aspirant for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination, Nixon obviously is anxious to have a record of participation in any weakening of the filibuster rule.

BEYOND 15 DAYS

Johnson, the Democratic leader in the Senate, has a big stake in preventing a party split on the issue.

Social Register New Yorker Weds Negro Entertainer

NEW YORK (AP)—The marriage of Josephine Premice, Negro entertainer, and Timothy Fales, social register son of a prominent banker - lawyer, was disclosed today by a friend of the bride.

Asked if there had been any objection from her husband's family to the interracial marriage, the bride said: "I'd rather not say. We just want to be left alone and lead our own lives."

The wedding took place last Friday in Miss Premice's Greenwich Village apartment. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, Negro minister and Democratic congressman.

Miss Premice, 32, is currently a featured performer in the Broadway musical "Jamaica." It is her first marriage.

BOTH LISTED

Fales, who friends said is about the same age, was previously married to Ellen Wood, a model. She obtained a divorce in Mexico in September.

The bridegroom is a son of DeCoursey Fales, chairman of the board of The Bank for Savings here and a resident of Gladstone, N. J. Father and son are both listed in the 1958 Social Register.

In an interview with a reporter for the New York Post, Miss Premice declined to talk about her in-laws.

Of her own parents' reaction to the wedding, she said: "My parents are healthy people. They take you for what you are here"—and she pointed to her heart.

Links Cancer To Fumes, Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Ohio doctor said today air pollution caused by auto and truck exhausts is as much responsible as cigarettes for increasing lung cancer.

Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, assistant dean of the College of Medicine at Ohio State University, made the statement in a speech prepared for the opening of the National Conference on Air Pollution.

Foul air originally was caused largely by burning of coal in homes and industry, Leake said, but now scientific studies show half of air pollution comes from motor engine exhaust.

"In addition to eye and respiratory irritation, the increasing incidence of lung cancer is quite as referable to increased city traffic exhausts as to cigarettes," he said.

"When are the auto and truck manufacturers going to turn from the foolishness of fins, from silly style whims, from oversized models and from too much horsepower to the essential but tough job of controlling exhausts?"

In another prepared talk, Dr.

BESIEGING ARMED NEGRO IN POLICE STATION — Officers with guns and a portable public address speaker are shown in Homestead, Fla., crouching outside a Police Station room where Robert Shaffer, 26, shot a policeman and held him hostage nearly two hours until Shaffer was slain by a shotgun blast. (AP Wirephoto).

Inmate Slain After 2-Hour Gun Battle

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP)—Minutes after a prisoner was let out of his cell, the local police station became a shambles of blood, debris and gunfire in a siege nearly two hours long.

When the battle ended at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Robert Shaffer, 26, the rangy Negro prisoner, lay dead of shotgun blasts. Desk officer Ted Beam, 38, shot and held hostage by Shaffer, was hospitalized in critical condition from a bullet wound in the back. Two other officers were treated for minor hurts. Two women stationhouse clerks were treated for shock.

Shaffer, who was being held on a disorderly conduct charge, jumped Beam after complaining of illness and being brought to the station office.

THROUGH WINDOW

He yanked Beam's gun out of its holster, shot and clubbed Beam, fought off other officers and fired at them as they fled outside.

Acting Chief Robert S. Dewitt broke his hand in the scuffle with Shaffer. Dade County patrolman Jack Allen, one of more than 30 police who rallied to the scene 30 miles south of Miami, was cut by flying glass when Shaffer fired a bullet through a window pane. Mary Lou Lawrence and Julia Cato, clerks, locked themselves in a station house room when Shaffer went berserk. Officers outside rescued them through a window.

Police fired into the building when they failed to induce Shaffer to surrender, but ceased fire when Beam called out that "he says he's going to kill me if you shoot any more.

Then officers saw Shaffer beating the helpless Beam about the head. They fired tear gas into the station and charged in, shooting.

"Kill that dirty ----," Beam moaned as the gun squad blasted Shaffer with saw-off shotguns.

Grant Called 1st Modern General

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Dr. T. Harry Williams of Louisiana State University said yesterday that Gen. U. S. Grant "was a more modern soldier than his rival," Gen. Robert E. Lee.

Dr. Williams addressed the second day of meetings at the second annual Civil War Conference. Historians and Civil War students from across the nation are attending the meeting.

Dr. Williams said it was "grant's ability to grasp the political nature of modern war that marks him as the first of the great modern generals."

He said Lee, while one of the best field commanders of the war, held himself aloof from making political decisions that might have had a great effect on the outcome of the struggle.

MURDER TRIAL

Expect Complete Davis Jury Today

Selection of a jury which will decide the fate of 34-year-old Brodie Byron Davis, charged with the murder of 80 - year - old Isaac C. Baker here last May, was continued into this afternoon from a special 30-man venire. Completion of the task of chosing three more jurors in the case today was seen as a possibility.

However, examination of prospective jurors became a more lengthy and tedious process as defense counsel intensively questioned prospects as to whether or not they had read news stories on the trial appearing in Monday afternoon's News-Star and this morning's World.

AT NOON

Following a late start brought about by the necessity for disposing of other court matters, only three of the 30 summoned for possible jury duty today were called to the box for interrogation. They were Ivy McDonald, Brewer Godfrey and Henry Biedenharn, Jr. A. V. Breard who had an excuse for not appearing Monday, and Hanna, were not accepted. McDonald and Godfrey, from the special venire, also

Caril Once Had Savings Account With Slayer

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Caril Fugate said today she once had a joint savings account with convicted killer Charles Starkweather.

The 15-year-old girl, who is on trial for first degree murder as Starkweather's alleged accomplice in one of the 11 killings attributed to him, told about the savings account during cross-examination.

She said about three months before the notorious killing tour, Starkweather brought her a signature card which gave her the right to draw money from the account. He explained he had been doing some drag racing and already had been involved in one minor accident. He said he wanted her to get his money if he should be killed, the girl related. Caril said she never learned how much money was in the account.

98-Year-Old Told To Behave

Confessed Killer Of Mother Put Under Observation

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Robert Egbert, 26, charged with murder in the strangling and stabbing of his widowed mother, was taken to Martland Medical Center for observation today.

"I stabbed mother," his brother, Steven, 27, quoted Robert as saying Monday night.

The nude body of the victim, Marie Egbert, 46, was found beneath the sofa of her home.

Detective Capt. Bernard Mulvaney said an autopsy showed the woman was first strangled and then stabbed five times in the chest. He said Egbert tore off her clothing before he stabbed her.

STABBED HER

Egbert, described by his family as a disturbed person, readily admitted the killing, police said, but declined to give any reason.

Mulvaney said Egbert told him he grabbed his mother by the throat while she was ironing, strangled her, then stabbed her because he was not sure she was dead.

Steven told police he returned to their apartment about 7 p.m., and found Robert walking dazedly about. He could see his mother's bare legs protruding from under the sofa.

"What have you done?" Steven demanded of his brother.

"I stabbed mother," was Rob-

GRUESOME CASE

'Big Brother' Admits Slaying

CHICAGO (AP) — A gangling, jobless masonry worker was held by police today after they said he admitted the gruesome slaying of his former 15-year-old girl friend.

Police said Charles Melquist, 23, self-described "big brother" of Bonnie Leigh Scott, admitted he smothered the high school sophomore with a pillow in his auto in suburban Villa Park the night of Sept. 22 after she resisted his advances.

He then disrobed her and drove to a forest preserve where he disposed of her body in a ditch.

The girl's nude, decapitated body was found Saturday by a group of Boy Scouts where Melquist said he had dumped it.

4-INCH KNIFE

Melquist was quoted by police as saying he returned to the body four days after the slaying.

"I thought I killed her in a dream," he said, "and I went to see if the body was there."

On the night of Oct. 30, police said Melquist related during five hours of questioning, he went back and severed the head from the body with a four-inch knife, and also slashed the abdomen.

He said that since the slaying he has been having "terrible dreams."

Heavy Rains, Twisters Hit Many Areas

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Blizzard conditions crippled the northern plains today as a storm rolled slowly into Canada leaving much of mid - America covered with drifted snow, tornado litter and rain swollen streams.

At least 10 deaths were attributed to one of the earliest major winter storms in Weather Bureau history —a turbulence that swept from Texas and Louisiana to Minnesota and Wisconsin, from the slopes of the Rockies to the Mississippi River.

The storm center moved to the Minnesota-Canadian border overnight and was expected to pass into western Ontario by evening, resulting in diminishing winds and generally improving conditions over the northern plains late tonight.

Heavy snow drifting was reported over the Dakotas and northwest Minnesota, making road travel hazardous.

COLD AIR

Temperatures dropped to 21 below at Alamosa in south-central Colorado, 12 below at Flagstaff, Ariz., and 6 below at Zuni, N.M. and Bryce Canyon, Utah. Low readings from Texas to Illinois were mostly in the 20s and 30s but the temperatures sagged to 7 above at Goodland, Kan., and 12 at Dalhart, Tex.

A band of rain and scattered thunderstorms stretched from the Gulf Coast in Texas to the Ohio-Michigan border, marking the advance edge of the cold air.

A few show flurries continued over the Rockies. Rain began moving into the Northwest again, with snow over interior of Washington and Oregon.

Unusually severe for this time of year, the storm deposited as much as 16 inches of snow Monday at Lemmon, S.D.

Generally the depths were six to eight inches across western Kansas. Throughout the blizzard

Shirtsleeves Will Be Worn —Space Fashion

NEW YORK (AP)—Space pilots may whip off to Mars or the moon in their shirtsleeves, scientists said today.

The big luxuries of the trip may be only a shave and a change of underclothes from time to time.

This was the rugged future of man in space suggested by a panel of space doctors and engineers at the 13th annual meeting of the American Rocket Society.

Whatever the space pilot is allowed to wear, his worst moments may come at the beginning and end of his trip.

It is then he must withstand the enormous stresses of blast off acceleration and the braking of reentry into the earth's atmosphere.

He is scarcely likely to enjoy either ordeal, said Col. John P. Stapp, U.S. Air Force researcher who has tested these stresses on the human body in rocket sled work.

A new space capsule, being built at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Air Force Base, Texas, was described by Capt. Willard R. Hawkins and Dr. George T. Hauty.

It will serve as a training capsule for future space fliers and as a research chamber, they said. It will incorporate many items learned in earlier space flight experiments.

SPACE FLIGHT

Food may be one of the biggest morale items of the space flier.

In simulated space trips, volunteers said baby food and other unattractive items did their jobs poorly. They were demoralized. Some even became nauseated.

In fact, a high caloric diet with exotic foods, plenty of fruit juices and water, was the biggest morale factor in the first seven-day pretended space flight, the scientists said.

Some of the experimental items served to the space fliers were lobster, Norwegian shrimp, quail eggs and boned turkey.

Drinking water should be cool and fresh-tasting — another big morale item to men who lived for a week on stale brackish water.

Time is one of the biggest tests in space—and boredom is another.

Colder, Rains Forecast Here

Continued falling temperatures and more rain was the word from the weatherman today.

Civil Aeronautics, Selman Field reported .13 inches of rainfall since midnight last night with overcast skies holding promise of still more.

The high temperature reading yesterday was 77, which fell to 53 when the wind changed late in the day. Today's mid - morning reading was 50 degrees.

Lows tonight, 42 to 46; the highs tomorrow, 58 to 62.

Reporter Given Fine, Term For Court Contempt

Sam Hanna, News-Star reporter, was fined $25 and given a suspended 24-hour jail sentence in Fourth District Court here this morning by Judge David I. Garrett on a charge of contempt of court.

Hanna was brought before the bench for failure to acknowledge a summons to appear Monday as a prospective juror in the murder case of Brodie Byron Davis who is accused of the murder of 80-year-old Isaac Charlie Baker.

The newsman explained to the court that he had been instructed by his superiors at the newspaper to go to Baton Rouge to cover the special session of the state legislature after he had received the summons to appear as a prospective juror yesterday. He said he had made an attempt to contact court officials before leaving Monroe but had not been able to do so.

In a stern lecture, Judge Garrett declared that "this is the first time in my 25 years on the bench that the occasion has arisen where someone summoned for jury duty had ignored the call. This is a very serious offense in view of the fact that the very foundation of man's protection and security is centered in the courts of this land."

Explaining that the maximum penalty for such an offense was a fine of $100 and 10 days in jail, Judge Garrett told Hanna he was granting leniency in his case because he felt it was a matter of negligence rather than a matter of intention.

"Whenever someone fails to an-

were excused from service after questioning by both the state and the defense. Biedenharn was under examination at the noon hour.

In the examination of prospective jurors this morning, each was asked if he had read stories of the Davis case in Monday afternoon's News-Star and this morning's World. They then were asked if, after having read the stories, they had formed opinions as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant. Each replied he had not.

The muscular six - foot, 200-pound ex-convict was indicted by the June term of the Ouachita Parish Grand Jury for the murder of 80-year-old Baker who was a retired farmer living alone in a modest dwelling "back of the levee" at the foot of Lazarre Avenue in West Monroe.

53 WITNESSES

Dist. Atty. Albin P. Lassiter has announced he would seek the death penalty for Davis who has pleaded not guilty to the charge. The defense counsel indicated in intensive examination of prospective jurors Wednesday, that it would emphasize the fact the state's case revolves around circumstantial evidence.

At the outset of the case, Lassiter called a list of 53 witnesses he expects to bring to the stand during the course of the trial. Speculation is that at least five days will be required to complete the case. The defense has a comparatively large number of witnesses also, but the exact number had not been determined this morning.

All witnesses with the exception of the sheriff's department were placed "under the rule," which means they are excluded from the courtroom during process of the trial.

It was understood that Davis has insisted upon maintaining his plea of not guilty, although conviction of guilty as charged would result in automatic sentence to death in the electric chair at Angola. However, under such a plea, the jury can return a verdict of guilty without capital punishment, which would mean a life sentence. Too, the jury could declare him guilty of manslaughter which carries a 21-year sentence. And, as a fourth alternative, the jury could return an acquittal.

Baker's battered and trussed body was found floating in the Ouachita River a short distance below his home located at the foot of Lazarre Avenue in West Monroe. An examination by Dr. John Burton, parish coroner, showed he had been beaten severely about the head with a blunt instrument. When found, Baker's hands were tied together in front of his body, and a towel was knotted about his neck.

Neighbors reported he had been missing from his home where he lived alone since the previous Thursday which was on May 15. Investigation also showed, it is reported, that Davis was seen in Baker's company on the night of the aged man's disappearance.

SELECTED

Selected for jury duty in yesterday's session were R. Frank Parker of Ward 3, C. D. Little of Ward 10, W. L. Carbrey of Ward 10, W. H. Ricks of Ward 2, Wayne Deacon of Ward 5, T. W. Humphries of Ward 3, John Scalia of Ward 5, Richard Garland of Ward 5 and Earl Stovall of Ward 10.

Called for today's venire are Jack F. Steele of Ward 5, John H. Birdsong of Ward 10, W. O. Webb of Ward 10, Earl L. Tarver of Ward 3 D. C. Metcalf of Ward 5, A. P. Wood of Ward 1, D. Curtis Smith of Ward 4, R. R. Wroten of Ward 10, Bill Hendrix of Ward 10, A. R. Deland of Ward 10, Ernest B. Gross of Ward 8, Frank Anzalone Jr., of Ward 10, Francis Blazier of Ward 5, Emory H. Johnson of Ward 1, Theo Terzia of Ward 3, Clyde Foster of Ward 6, Bruce Helm of Ward 10, L. F. Wilhite of Ward 5, Harvey Taylor of Ward 5, Pat B. McHenry of Ward 10, Henry Biedenharn, Jr., of Ward 10, B. G. Jacka of Ward 10, W. B. McWhorter of Ward 5, Jesse L. Bamburg of Ward 5, Ivy McDonald of Ward 10, Brewer Godfrey of Ward 10, W. S. Shafto of Ward 10, Ward Cash of Ward 5, A. O. Evans of Ward 10 and J. S. Cross of Ward 10.

One of the contributing factors in Davis' arrest in connection with Baker's murder was the finding of Baker's watch in a Monroe pawn shop. It had been "hocked" in the name of Davis, investigators have disclosed.

area wind gusts of as much as 50 miles an hour whipped the snow into road-clogging drifts and made driving hazardous. Roads from Kansas southward, however, were generally open to travel.

In the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles the snow turned to slush then froze again Monday night, making driving treacherous.

In Arizona the storm left two inches of snow on the desert, deposited 4½ inches at normally warm Tucson and 14 inches at Flagstaff.

Bone-chilling temperatures followed the clearing. The Mercury dropped to zero in northern Arizona and 10 below in northern New Mexico.

Tornadoes and high winds caused damage in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Iowa as the storm system approached. Scattered severe thunderstorms and possible tornadoes were forecast for an area from extreme southeastern Iowa to extreme southeastern Wisconsin.

High winds caused two other deaths. A Texas oil field worker was killed when winds blew over an oil rig near Odessa. An Oklahoma woman died when a high wind struck her chicken house. Heart attacks caused two deaths in the Oklahoma snow.

Tornadic winds battered three areas in Iowa. The winds damaged buildings in the business district of Elkader and more than 12 farms in the Grinnell and Ottumwa areas. There were no known fatalities and only four persons with minor injuries.

Hopes faded in Arizona for the safety of three Boy Scouts missing since Saturday in the snow-covered and bitter cold Santa Rita Mountains near Tucson. More than 150 possemen trudged through deep snow drifts Monday in search of Mike Early, 16; Michael Lanoue, 13, and David Grenberg, 12, all of Tucson.

He said there were 66,400,000 of them on the nation's highways last year as compared with 40,600,000 in 1948.

The conference was called by U.S. Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney. More than 70 air pollution specialists, civic leaders and representatives of industrial and governmental agencies dealing with air pollution are participating in the three day sessions.

The Public Health Service hopes the participants will agree on a 10-year plan to fight air pollution.

Dr. Leake said nuclear weapons testing also is a "potentially very dangerous sort of air pollution, involving all living things."

"One need only spend a few hours in California or Nevada to recognize the growing public apprehension over radiation fallout," he said.

Christmas Mail

The West Monroe post office is preparing for the annual Christmas mail rush, Homer Roark, postmaster, said yesterday. Roark said this year's mailing is expected to reach an all - time high.

The postmaster urged that gifts be wrapped in sturdy containers and strong paper and contain the proper and full addresses of both the sender and receiver.

The postoffice has free of charge labels reading "Local Delivery" and "Out of Town Delivery," which Roark urged persons mailing cards use to facilitate the handling of the mail.

Packages and cards to distant points should be mailed by Dec. 10 and others by Dec. 15 to insure quick delivery.

Police Reports

BURGLARY CLEARED

The apprehension of four white juveniles, ranging from 9 to 12 years of age, by the detective division of the West Monroe Police department has cleared up one burglary and several other "minor offenses," Chief of Police Jeff Caldwell said today.

Chief Caldwell said a residence at 1302 Eby street, West Monroe, was entered Sunday and $5.92 in cash taken.

The four juveniles have reportedly admitted entering the house and taking the money, the chief said.

The case was turned over to the parish juvenile officer, Buster Crowley, Jr., for further action.

HIT AND RUN

The Monroe police department is investigating a hit and run accident which occurred on Cole Avenue late yesterday. The automobile hit belonged to Mrs. L. M. Bennett, but was parked in front of the residence of William Coleman, 1101 Cole Avenue.

The parked automobile was damaged on the left side, police said.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING

A parish youth, Johnny Boyd, Route 1, box 80, Monroe, is in a local hospital after being accidentally shot yesterday. The youth was with another, Virgil Hobgood, also Route 1, shooting targets when the accident occurred.

Boyd was struck in the left ankle, but the wound was not believed serious.

The two were practicing shooting the small calibre pistol when the accident happened near West Monroe.

Youth Jailed In Juvenile Case

A 16-year-old Negro, who had served time in the Arkansas Training Institute for Negro Boys, is being held in the Ouachita parish jail on two charges of attempted rape and one of aggravated rape. The aggravated rape charge involves a four - year - old Negro girl, who was also severely beaten.

Chief of Police James C. Kelly, Jr., identified the youth as Theodis Brown, 16, of 1414 Louise Anne Street.

Chief Kelly said Brown had admitted the three offenses, which occurred on September 15, Oct. 11 and November 15. The aggravayed rape offense occurred on October 11, reports show.

Kelly said the Brown youth was picked up following the aggravated rape occurrence, but had to be released several days later, when no defeinite connection could be made. He had been held in the juvenile detention home during the questioning.

However, shortly after he was released, the youth, Chief Kelly said, is charged with another attempted rape, this time of a 16-year-old Negro girl. The victim identified the youth, which led to his arrest and questioning.

Chief Kelly said an intensive questioning of the youth broke down his defense and he admitted all three offences.

In the case involving the four-year-old child, officers were summoned to the residence, in New Town addition, on October 11. When they arrived, they found the child severely beaten and criminally assaulted. She was kept in the hospital for several days for treatment.

Prior to that incident, on September 13, a complaint was received by the Monroe police department of an attempted rape of a six year old Negro girl. The girl had been carried out of the house, as the younger victim was, but the mother missed the child and called her out of the back yard.

Then on November 15, the incident with the 16-year-old Negro girl occurred, and the attacker was identified. The attacker had again broken into a house, the third within a four- block radius.

The Negro youth is being held in the parish jail pending action by the district attorney and-or the parish grand jury.

Sudan Junta Warns Against Exploitation

CAIRO (AP)—Sudan's new military rulers warned merchants today of severe punishment if they raise prices to exploit the people.

The army command said it had learned that some merchants had started profiteering. A statement broadcast by Khartoum radio warned that exploitation could bring stiff penalties.

Gen. Ibrahim Abboud, the Sudanese army commander in chief, seized power in Khartoum early Monday. Charging corruption and political instability, he ousted Premier Abdullah Khalil, dissolved Parliament and abolished political parties.

The broadcast said messages of support for Abboud had been received from all parts of the million-square-mile nation of 10 million people.

The Cairo press, controlled by President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, said the coup would not affect relations between Sudan and the U.A.R.

The newspaper Al Ahram quoted American news agency reports from London that British experts thought the coup was to forestall any Sudanese concessions to Nasser.

Western intriguers are "wasting their time and their intrigues are doomed," Al Ahram said. "The Egyptian and Sudanese people have inhabited this part of the world for a long time and will remain, but imperialism is bound to quit."

Methodists Point To $500,000 In Wesley Needs

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) —Mississippi Methodist headquarters said today it will take about $500,000 to meet the needs of Wesley foundations on the campuses of state junior and senior colleges.

The announcement came after a meeting of representatives of the boards of directors of the five Mississippi Wesley foundations.

Tentative plans call for a survey by lay leaders within each of the 12 districts of the state to get information about the ability of each local church to participate financially in meeting the needs.

The announcement listed the needs:

Mississippi State College for Women: $12,000 on hand and $75,000 needed to build and furnish a student center. Commitment to borrow $25,000, leaving $28,000 to be raised.

Mississippi State: Lot bought and $150,000 needed.

University of Mississippi: Wesley Foundation annex already part of the Oxford Methodist Church, partially built by the two conferences in the state. Needed is $50,000 for lot adjacent to campus for building a week-day activity room.

Mississippi Southern: Lot bought and $150,000 needed.

Jackson Wesley Foundation for all schools in area: To be brought into overall building program of statewide Methodists.

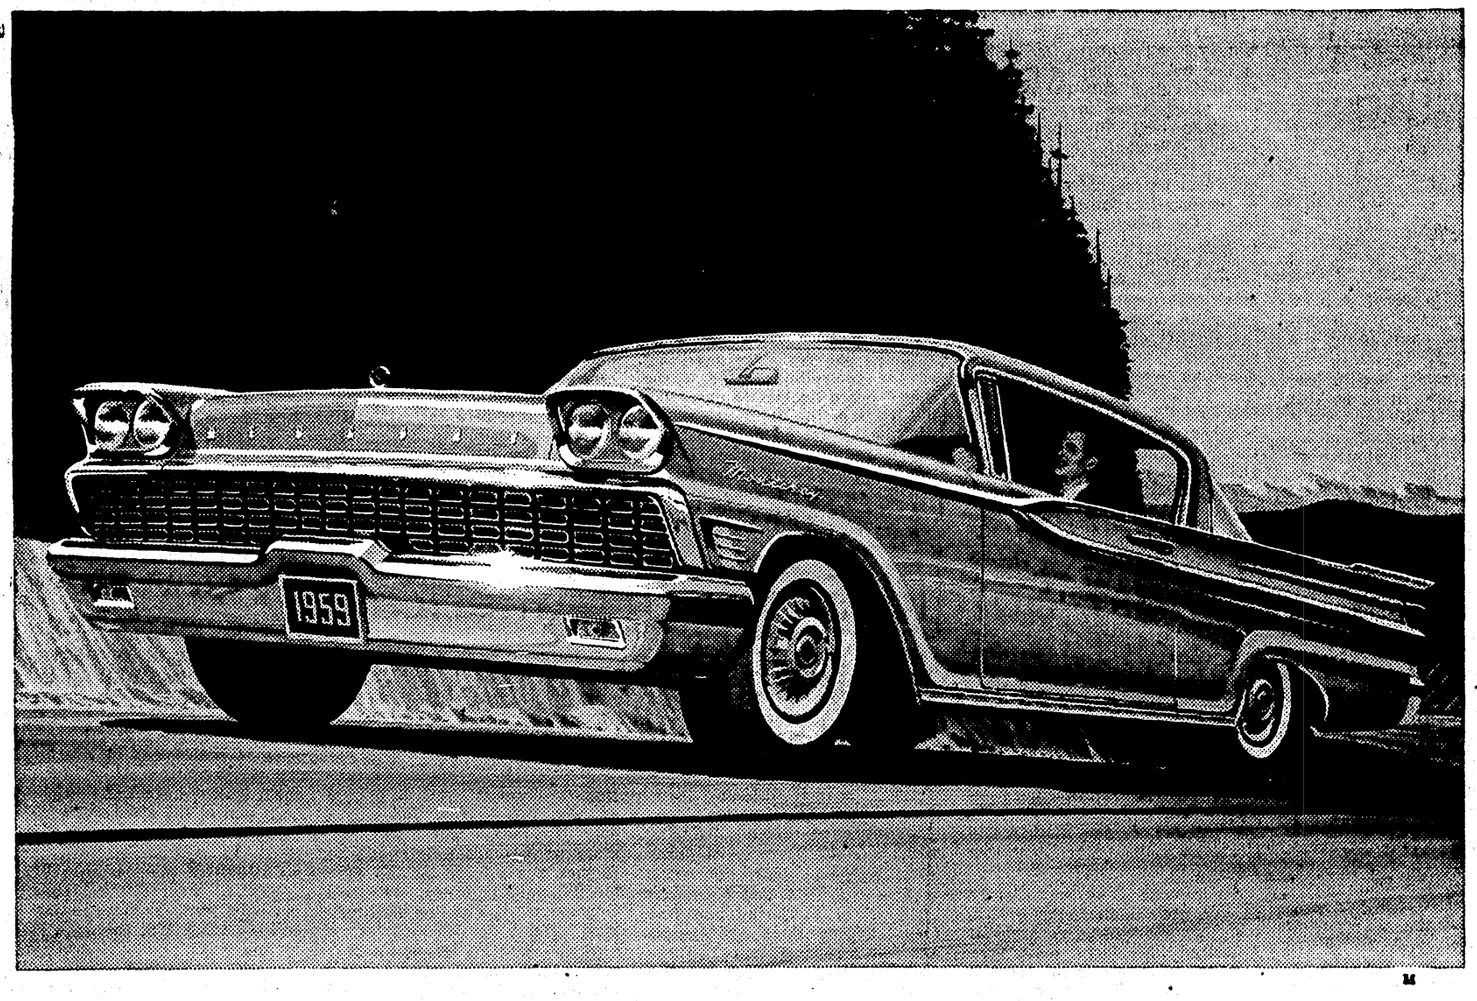
ANNOUNCING THE FIRST LUXURY CARS WITH A CONSCIENCE: NEW GAS-SAVING MONTEREYS



New economy-powered Mercury Montereys let you "ride free" 10 miles in every 100

It's about time someone made a luxury car with a V-8 engine that delivers top performance on regular (not premium) gasoline. And Mercury's done it with this beautiful Monterey. You save 10% every time you stop for gas. You get more mileage with regular gasoline than many cars with premium.

It's about time someone built a beautifully styled car that is truly comfortable. Mercury's done it.

• For easier entrance, this Monterey has wider front doors than the costliest cars. The windshield pillar has been moved out of the way of your knees and elbows.

• For extra knee room, the instrument panel has been moved away from your lap. There's 9 inches more stretch-out comfort.

• For extra comfort for center-seat passengers, the tunnel-hump in the floor has been cut in half. Passengers in the middle no longer ride with their legs doubled up. And the lower hump makes room for thicker seat cushioning—not just thin padding.

In a dozen ways, the '59 Mercury has made pleasures out of what are still problems in other '59 cars: New windshield wipers have an overlapping pattern, clear even the center. New aluminized mufflers last twice as long. New anti-dive suspension checks "nose dip" on sudden stops. Self-adjusting brakes eliminate periodic adjustment. New Super-Enamel finish keeps its beauty—doesn't need waxing for years.

Best of all, these beautiful Montereys are attractively priced—well within the reach of 2 out of 3 new-car buyers. We invite you to see them at our showroom.

Australians Go To Polls Saturday

The United States will be watching next Saturday's election in Australia.

On that date, the voters in the land down under go to the polls to elect 32 of the 60 members of the Senate and the full 124 members of the House of Representatives.

Reports indicate the coalition government which Prime Minister Robert Gordon Menzies has headed for almost a decade is favored to succeed itself. The Liberal-Country Party is said to have benefited greatly by a bad split in the Labor Party which furnishes the principal opposition.

Officially, there is no doubt but what officials in our own nation hope that Menzies' government wins reelection.

U.S. and British observers are forthrightly predicting another win for Menzies, though Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, the Labor leader and former Minister of External Affairs, is making his strongest bid yet to become Prime Minister. The London Economist's correspondent sees Labor as "limping towards certain defeat. And the Christian Science Monitor representative in Sydney writes that the government apparently feels secure "despite public protests at increased federal spending and mounting living costs."

The government succeeded in arresting inflation two years ago, but falling exports and deficit spending are renewing that old threat. Also menacing is a recession which could, in part at least, be charged to economic policies of Australia's ally, the United States.

AUSTRALIA AND THE UNITED STATES are of course linked in the ANZUS (Australia, New Zealand, United States) and SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization) regional defense arrangements. The smallest continent furnishes the southern anchor of the Allied defensive perimeter in the Pacific.

The London Times recently reported that "the annual rate of American investment in Australian industry . . . has nearly doubled" since World War II. And since the war, Australia more and more has tended to follow U.S. leadership in the Pacific — notably in accepting in 1951 a U.S.-negotiated peace treaty with Japan, the power which Australia had long feared as the principal threat to its security.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER on Sept. 22 ordered a one-third cut in lead and zinc imports to relieve "genuine distress" in the domestic industry. Under the conditions of the order, as the Economist has pointed out, the restriction falls heavily on Australia "which is cut 50 percent in lead metal and 45 percent in lead concentrates." Quotas went into effect Oct. 1. Meantime, Prime Minister Menzies on Sept. 30 made public a letter from President Eisenhower offering to discuss "possible alternative arrangements," and admitting that the U.S. action "happens to operate with particular severity against the Australian economy."

Subsequently a United Nations subcommittee meeting in Geneva has presumably worked out a multilateral arrangement, but this has not as yet been made public. Inasmuch as Australia's main crop is wheat, U.S. subsidy and "give-away" programs for disposing of our own surpluses have been just as unpopular Down Under as they have been in Canada.

The Australian budget presented Aug. 5 calls for expenditures of 1,575 million ($3,538 million) and a deficit of 110 million ($246.4 million). It has been called "austere" for an election year, but Dr. Evatt charges that it contains large hidden surpluses, and that Labor could give the Aussie taxpayers "more for your money" without upping taxes.

On foreign policy, Evatt is on less popular ground. He advocates, at least indirectly, recognition of Communist China. The Liberal government has steadily supported the U.S. policy of nonrecognition, and the voters seem to have agreed.

Bananas are grown commercially in more than 60 countries of the world. The United States, a major consumer, gets its principal supply from Central America, a leading producer.

Holmes first began his clever deducing, with the help of Sir Arthur, in "Study in Scarlet" in 1887 and continued through many exciting episodes until "The Case Book of Sherlock Holmes" (1927).

Sherlock Holmes, most famous of all fictional detectives, is said to have been inspired by a Dr. Joseph Bell, physician, and one of A. Conan Doyle's professors.

Dr. Jordan Becomes A Columnist

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — I had rather hoped to greet Dr. Sara Jordan with a rapturous essay on her debut in my profession as "columnist" on the ills that flesh is heir to, but every opening paragraph had a trite sound. For this great lady of the Lahey Clinic in Boston, now retired at 74, has been praised beyond my poor powers to add to. I could have exclaimed in propriety and conscience, "Love, here is my heart!" for I owe her my life, and her casual sacrifice in coming to the airport in a blinding rain at night to ride in the ambulance beside me to New England Baptist Hospital was unspeakably touching. But she and her husband have known all that a long time and, moreover, I am only a somewhat cracked and quavering treble in a great chorus.

I have wanted, however, to do something for Doctor Sara, the endearment which the other doctors and the nurses used when she was not in earshot, by way of touching her shoulder and heartening her as she has heartened many and many a one. So, today, when I saw her name on the wagons roaring through midtown I phoned her at her home in Boston. "Sara," I yelled, "Your name is on the wagons!" I could almost see her wince. Vaguely, so as not to hurt me, she explained that in her old profession this was not quite the thing.

"Yes," I hollered, "but this is not medicine. This is journalism and your name on the wagons is accolade. You are up there with the bowling editor and Elsa Maxwell. It took me 30 years to get my name on a wagon!"

"—If you look at it that way," she said, trailing off. "I suppose I will get adjusted. But perhaps you could tell me this: How does one write best? Do you write in a study?"

So I said I would write her a discussion and this is that:

A long time ago, a beautiful, black-eyed, auburn-haired girl named Katharine Brush took New York by storm and moved into the biggest apartment in town in a new building on 57th Street. She and her husband, Bobby Winans, now of Rio De Janeiro, were not content with a duplex and therefore got a triplex apartment with a living room tall enough for a ski-jump.

Joe Urban, the great designer of Ziegfeld sets, created a circular study for Kay. It was like a drum or an ashcan, three stories high. Joe had invented the urban blue and Kay had him urban-blue the walls and ceiling. There were unusual lights and the wastebaskets were like jewel cases and fit only for discarded snatches of immortal prose.

Bobby bought the biggest set of miniature trains in the world, with bridges, gorges, grand centrals, wrecks, miles and miles of tracks and little figurines of commuters that staggered off the 11:59, after missing the 5:15. (This was in prohibition.)) He also got an aquarium just a few drops smaller than the Pacific Ocean, with whales and sea serpents.

I am telling you, this was a hell of a place.

Leon Gordon, the portrait painter, came into the ski-jump room and, according to his formula, bellowed: "That wall cries out for something."

"Such as a portrait?" Bobby asked. "The very thing," Leon agreed and that was how Kay's son, Tommy, happens to have in his possession today a portrait of the dimunitive Kay Brush nine feet tall., James Montgomery Flagg's first comment was, "My God, don't tell me you are happy here!" and Rube Goldberg said, "All it needs is a Cadillac on velvet."

Kay had thousands of sharp pencils within reach on a crescent desk, unlike any copy desk in any city room, with a top of blue leather and built of rose-mahogany. Her typewriter was of a French enamel called cloisonne, which tiffany ran up for her on special order. The words it wrote were out of this world.

That was a problem. Katharine Brush wrote this world's words and something was all wrong. She would put her pretty forehead down on her hands on the blue leather desk and wish she were living in some garret.

Joe Urban had not reckoned on the acoustics. It seems that in a drum or ashcan, however pretty and expensive, the tapping of a typewriter, sounds like an air-hammer. Kay said she dropped a paper-clip on the blue leather desk and it clattered like a crowbar on a steel deck.

The poor girl was going crazy, and with a deadline for the Saturday Evening Post in the days before it turned to biographies of George Raft, Eleanor Roosevelt and Mickey Cohen.

So, in desperation, she climbed up behind the Christmas ornaments in the big closet and got out her old-time Remington rock-crusher with a bell like the gong of hook and ladder 8, and an old bridge table and set it up in her little sewing room. And, in three weeks, Katharine Brush knocked off young man of Manhattan, the deathless epic of the era of wonderful nonsense and prohibition.

Blessed Doctor Sara, does that answer your question?

Federal Spending Is Rising

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has had good intentions about holding down government spending. Despite this, spending has risen.

Now he will try again.

At his Nov. 5 news conference, Eisenhower said that during his final two years in the White House he intends to fight against any excessive spending, which he called dangerous to the nation.

Ever since last summer — as happens every year—agency and department heads have been working on the budget; the President's estimate of what it will cost to run the government in the next fiscal year, starting July 1, 1959. He will submit this budget to Congress in January.

While Eisenhower has steadily preached economy, expenses have been steadily getting bigger. Biggest spender of all is the Defense Department, thanks especially to inflation and new weapons.

Of the almost 80 billion dollars which the government is expected to spend this year, more than half will be for national defense.

In one economy move, the Pentagon expects to trim 30,000 men from the Army and 25,000 from the Marines.

The following figures will give an idea of how government costs have risen, starting in fiscal 1953 when President Truman was still in office and this country was still fighting the Korean War.

Before looking at them, remember a couple of things which keep showing up in these figures: the public debt and a deficit.

In World War II the government was never able to pay its expenses from the revenue it collected, mainly from personal income and corporation taxes.

So the government had to borrow money. It may never be able to pay that debt in full, but it will have to pay interest on it, with the interest coming from revenue.

The goal of each administration is to meet each year's expenses out of current revenue and have a surplus left over to pay on the debt. When expenses total more than revenue there is a deficit.

For example: In 1948, when defense spending was at a postwar low and just as the cold war was beginning, government expenditures were $33,100,000,000, the public debt was $252,300,000,000 and, instead of a deficit, the government wound up with a surplus of $8,400,000,000.

Now skip to 1953, when the United States was fighting in Korea, giving billions in foreign aid, and developing its atomic weapons and jet aircraft.

In that year expenditures totaled $74,300,000,000, the debt was 261 billion, and the government had a deficit of $9,400,000,000.

In fiscal 1954 expenditures were down to $67,800,000,000, but the public debt was up to $271,300,000,000 and there was a deficit of $3,100,000,000.

In 1955, after Eisenhower had had time to look around, he cut spending to $64,600,000,000. But the debt was up to $274,400,000,000 and there was a deficit of $4,200,000,000.

That was the last year he was able to cut government spending.

This has been the score since:

1956—Expenditures, 66½ billion dollars; public debt, $272,800,000,000; and a surplus of $1,600,000,000.

1957—expenditures, $69,400,000,000; public debt, 270½ billion; and a surplus of $1,600,000,000.

That was the last year Eisenhower had a surplus. From then on the deficit began to soar:

1958 — Expenditures, $71,900,000,000; public debt, $276,300,000,000 and a deficit of $2,800,000,000.

Expenditures for the 1959 fiscal year—which ends next June 30—are estimated at almost 80 billion, the public debt at $283,300,000,000 and the deficit at $12,200,000,000.

Twenty All-Negro, Five All-White Schools In Washington

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Right here in the District of Columbia, the latest official figures show there are 20 schools which are all-Negro and five schools that are all-white. Does this mean that the "law of the land" is being ignored or to borrow a phrase from some of the critics that the law is being "defied"?

The Supreme Court of the United States in its historic 1954 decision quoted with approval a statement that "segregation of white and colored children in public schools has a detrimental effect upon the colored children." It cited as one of the "intangible" factors to be considered in providing the Negro student "quality" in education, "his ability to study, to engage in discussions and exchange views with other students." The court said "such considerations apply with added force to children in grade and high schools."

The argument, of course, is made that the existence of all-white or all-Negro schools here is due not to a deliberate policy of segregation but to the accident of residence in a particular school district. But this can be readily overcome by providing bus transportation so that children can be taken from one part of the city to another in order to enjoy the benefits of integration as the Supreme Court has described them.

To get the money for buses the local government would have to apply to Congress, which runs the District of Columbia. Indeed, since the law of 1868 which provided for segregation in the district schools was nullified by the Supreme Court in 1954, there has been no substitute law passed on the Integration problem. The District School Board took it upon itself to initiate a desegregation program. It acted under the broad powers of the 1906 Organic Act, which gives the school board rather comprehensive authority over school programs. Only if new projects require additional funds must Congress give the necessary authorization.

Today the district still maintains to some extent the "separate but equal" idea. Not only are there 25 schools that are, in effect, completely segregated, but there are 74 other schools in which 90 to 99 per cent are Negro. In 20 additional schools the enrollment is 90 to 99 per cent white. This means that, out of 170 schools in Washington, 119 are entirely or almost entirely of one race or the other.

How long can such virtual segregation be maintained in the national capital? The whole country is being told that segregation must be abolished altogether and that there must be no "evasive" schemes. The accident of residence is largely due to discrimination in respect to housing. There are areas of Washington, for instance, where "restrictive covenants"—contracts made between private citizens not to sell to certain races — operate even though the Supreme Court has ruled that these are not enforceable by legal proceedings.

Undoubtedly there are children of members of Congress and of officials of the federal government who live in some of the neighborhoods where Negroes are barred from owning property.

This complicates the problem of assigning Negroes to white schools. But residence need not be the controlling factor if the school board decides to carry out the letter of the Supreme Court's decision by seeing to it that the Negro and white children everywhere mingle so as to derive the benefits cited by the court in 1954.

Apparently many people in the District of Columbia are objecting even to such desegregation as has occurred. In the last four years there has been a gradual exodus of white children to private schools or to the suburbs in nearby Virginia and Maryland. The latest official figures show that, in all public schools in the district, the enrollment now is 74.1 per cent Negro—which means 2,434 fewer whites and 5,539 more Negroes than a year ago. The elementary schools are 78 per cent Negro. The total enrollment of all schools here is 84,650 Negroes and 29,569 whites. This is an increase of 55,258 Negro pupils and a decrease of 15,228 whites since schools in Washington were "integrated" four years ago.

If the theory expounded by the Supreme Court of the United States is accepted, education will not be equal until every Negro child has a chance to attend a white school and "to study, engage in discussions and exchange views with other students."

In New York City, several Negro parents are boycotting certain schools which they consider inferior in quality, although "integrated," and are demanding better education through assignment of their children to white schools in other parts of the city irrespective of residence. They are willing to provide transportation. They are quoting the Supreme Court desegregation decision of 1954 in support of their demands, but thus far New York City has refused to redistrict the Negro pupils. There is some transportation of students out of their regular districts to relieve overcrowding in individual schools, and school authorities state that, where this is necessary, they try whenever possible to achieve integration at the same time but will not transport pupils solely for that purpose. Negro leaders are asking if this isn't a "defiance" of the "law of the land."

Most Sordid Story In America Swept Under Rug

BY FULTON LEWIS

WASHINGTON—The Justice Department has quietly swept under the rug one of the most sordid stories in contemporary American politics.

By dropping its perjury charges against Paul Hughes, the government has spared the hierarchy of American liberaldom some very painful and agonizing moments in district court. The assorted editors of the Washington Post and the bigwigs of the Americans for Democratic Action will now not have to explain on the witness stand how they paid huge sums to Mr. Hughes for totally false information designed to smear the late Senator Joe McCarthy.

Paul Hughes is a self-confessed confidence man who went to such prominent left wingers as Joseph Rauh and Clayton Fritchey and posed as an aide to Joe McCarthy. In return for the "inside dirt" that Hughes gave them Rauh and Fritchey slipped him over $10,000.

The fact of the matter is that Paul Hughes had never in his life even seen McCarthy or anybody on his staff, but it never occurred to Rauh or Fritchey to find this out.

Mr. Rauh, incidentally, is the vice chairman of the ADA and a left-wing lawyer whose clients have included the Communist government of Poland, espionage agent William Remington, and Walter Reuther. Mr. Fritchey's credits show that he is a card-carrying member of the ADA, who at the time was deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee. He then was promoted, and directed Adlai Stevenson's 1956 campaign to ignominious defeat.

Mr. Hughes fed Mr. Rauh and Mr. Fritchey — with other ADA-ers like Telford Taylor and Alfred Friendly eagerly listening in — the wildest "information" one could imagine about McCarthy and his staff. They loved every lie of it and clamored for more.

There were the personal "quotes" of McCarthy and Roy Cohn showing their recklessness and "un-American ideas." There were even the "transcripts" of the secret executive sessions in which McCarthy and Cohn browbeat witnesses mercilessly.

After Hughes' customers became bored with such trivia, Hughes gave them their money's worth. He solemnly told them that hidden in the basement of the Senate Office Building, McCarthy had stored his own pesonal arsenal.

These were the sort of stories that they wanted and they were extremely satisfied with Mr. Hughes' "work." This had gone on from 1954 to 1955, and it was only then that it was discovered, more or less accidentally, that Hughes was a fraud. So the ADA lost its paid informer, and Paul Hughes parted with "no hard feelings," richer by $10,000.

Hughes told his whole story at the perjury trial of Harvey Matusow two years ago, and when that trial was over and Matusow sent to jail the government accused Mr. Hughes of lying about Rauh, Friendly, et al.

Paul Hughes was indicted on six counts of perjury, and at the trial the government called in Messrs. Rauh, Friendly, Fritchey and Taylor to convince the jury that Hughes was lying. They didn't do a very good job.

The jury decided to believe Hughes instead of the witnesses and acquitted him on two indictments. On three of the other four counts the jury voted 11-1 for acquittal. The government asked for a retrial.

Now the Justice Department says they are dropping the charges against Hughes. They say "there is no reason to believe a second jury would be any less receptive to the contentions made by the defense" than the first.

In plain language this means the Justice Department has given up on the Paul Hughes case because they know that no other jury would believe the ADA's top leadership. For in acquitting Paul Hughes last year the jury said in effect that Rauh and Friendly were unworthy of belief.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

AT NIGHT KEEP BABY ON TUMMY

The newborn baby has many adjustments to make. He has been curled up in the uterus for months and is likely to resist efforts to alter this position. When placed in the crib, many promptly reassume the uterine position of comfort.

The full term, healthy infant can lift and turn his head while lying prone. Suffocation need not be feared in this position, provided a pillow is not used. Should vomiting occur, the material cannot get into the windpipe and cause penumonia, as may happen when the tot is lying on his back. For this reason, pediatricians advise parents to accustom the infant to the prone position. Within a week or two, many are unable to sleep unless placed on the abdomen.

But any posture that is addhered to has its good and bad points. Since the infant spends most of his time in bed, he should be turned periodically. The following schedule is suggested:

Let him lie on his back during part of the day and then prop him on one side or the other during the remainder of the day. Put him on his tummy at night. This plan helps to avoid a misshapen head. When the infant lies continuously on his back, the skull tends to flatten out, and an analogous situation occurs when the infant spends most of his time sleeping on one side.

The chief objection to lying on the tummy in a froglike position centers about the hips. The legs are rotated outwardly and pressure is exerted on the hip joints as well as the inner aspects of the knees and ankles.

But this is a minor point because rotation of the hips is corrected quickly as soon as the child learns to walk. Furthermore, if the parents follow the rule of changing position from time to time, hips and head will benefit.

FEVER IN ILLNESS

L. R. writes: Does fever serve a useful purpose in illness?

REPLY

Older physicians theorized that a rise in temperature represented an attempt by the body to kill bacteria but fever never goes this high. We know now that the system combats infection in more efficient ways. The objection to fever is that it saps the strength, adds to discomfort, and prolongs convalescence. Aspirin lowers an elevated temperature but does not cure infection. We now have the wonder drugs to do both.

TRAINING A CHILD

Mrs. J. writes: In toilet training, should a tot be left on the chair until he is successful?

Yes, but take him off the chair if enough time has elapsed and he becomes fidgety. Our leaflet on bowel and bladder training may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

LIVER ENLARGEMENT

G. B. writes: Is surgery done for an enlarged liver?

REPLY

Not for the common kinds of liver enlargement. Surgery is indicated occasionally for removal of a tumor, to drain an abscess or in treating complications that occur as a result of cirrhosis.

THE DISEASE IS THERE

J.. W. writes: What is latent syphilis?

REPLY

This stage of the disease occurs several weeks to months after it s acquired. All of the original lesions have healed and the only sign of the disease is a positive blood test.

CAFFEINE AT 10 MONTHS

Mrs. G. writes: My 10 month old baby likes crackers soaked in coffee or tea. Will this harm her in any way?

REPLY

This baby is too young for caffeine. Dunk the crackers in milk.

OLD SYSTEM

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad announced its board has abolished the staggered system of electing directors. Instead, shareholders at the company's annual meeting in may will vote on an entire slate of 13 directors rather than just a few each year as under the old set up.

THUNDERING ATLAS — Throbbing under the power of its three mighty engines the Air Force Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile thunders away from the launch site last night at Cape Canaveral. A shower of ice which coated the missile falls away from the left side of the Atlas. The ice coating is caused by the liquid oxygen fuel mixture in the missile. The Atlas is believed to have flown a distance of approximately 3,000 miles. (Official U.S. Air Force Photo from AP Wirephoto).

Koch Declares Industry Looks Toward South

Interest in the Monroe area as well as the rest of the South is mounting, according to Walter Koch, executive vice president of the Monroe Area Industrial Development Corporation who has completed an extensive tour of the eastern and northern industrial centers.

After contacting numerous industrial prospects in key centers, Koch returned to Monroe with requests for additional specific information on several plant location factors, he said.

The MAIDCO official found that industrial officials, as a whole, are "optimistic" regarding economic progress in 1959 and the immediate future.

"Many officials believe that business is now 'over the hump.' They look for better business conditions, and some industrialists even believe that the recession will have a good effect on their particular industries," Koch revealed.

"During the recession, they reviewed their over-all operations, and discovered that many time-saving and labor-saving devices could be started. This has resulted in a more efficient operation and better new profits," he explained.

In New York, Detroit, Washington and Chicago, he discussed the Monroe area with representatives from industries, banks, railroads, factory-locating services and industrial realtors.

A full report on the trip will be made at the next meeting of the MAIDCO Board of Directors, which may be called this month by President John Sherrouse Jr.

Koch received many inquiries about the Monroe Industrial Park at Selman Field and other industrial districts in the area.

"Major industries have begun extensive research programs during the last few years, and have manufactured many new products which are now being tested on the market," Koch said yesterday.

NEW ITEMS

"New plants will be required to produce these new items," he continued, "and obviously many of them will be located in the Southwest and Far West, where population is growing the fastest."

"A ready market for the new products is a major factor in the location of the plants," he added.

"We hope to have several locate in the Monroe area. However, competition is strong. At the Biltmore Hotel in New York City, I ran into Governor Coleman and ex-Governor White of Mississippi, with 20 planning representatives from that state," he pointed out.

MRS. OLLIE BURDEN

BATON ROUGE (Special)—Mrs. Ollie Steele Burden, 87-year-old member of a well known Baton Rouge family and a Ouachita Parish native, died at her Windrush Plantation home in Baton Rouge Monday.

She moved to Baton Rouge from Ouachita Parish in 1885 with her father, the late State Auditor O.B. Steele.

Mrs. Burden is survived by two sons, Steele Burden and William P. Burden, Jr.; a daughter, Miss Ione Burden, and a brother, Conley Steele, all of Baton Rouge.

Funeral services were held in Baton Rouge Tuesday.

Census Tract Committee Of 14 Nominated

Recommendations have been made to Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard for the appointment of a 14-member Census Tract Committee, it was announced yesterday.

Ten names have been recommended with four to be decided on, it was brought out at the Monroe - Ouachita Regional Planning Commission.

The Census Tract Committee would be in charge of a yearly check on certain specified areas of the city. No continuous check currently is made on definite areas, to determine the change in population each year.

Members of the committee would include: Mayor Howard; Chief of Police James C. Kelly, Jr.; Fire Chief H. L. Hales; George Parsons, planning director of the Commission; Jim Williams, executive secretary of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Harry Howard, of the sociology department at Northeast State College.

Dr. Carroll W. Summer, of the Ouachita Parish Health Unit; Mrs. Anna Slagle, who was in charge of the city's census in August; Otis Johnson and Mrs. A. D. Tisdale of the Commission; and a member of the Real Estate Board, the City School System, the Housing Authority and the Monroe Utilities Commission, are included on the list.

It would be up to Howard to appoint representatives from the latter four.

The Committee will review the results of the census and send this information to Washington, D. C.

Zone Meeting Of Lions Set

A variety show will highlight a zone meeting of Lions clubs hosted by the West Monroe club in the Junior High School today at 7:30 p.m.

About 200 club members from this zone of the organization and their wives will attend the dinner meeting and the program chairman pointed out the stage will be arranged so that all present will have "full vision" of the performers.

K. D. Norris, editor of the West Monroe club's bulletin, said no speaker would address the group but that the entire program would be turned over to the "all-star cast" of the variety show.

Members from the West Monroe club, the Downtown and North Monroe clubs and the Columbia club will be in attendance at the meeting.

Suicide Ruled In Choudrant Case

CHOUDRANT (Special) — A 36-year-old Choudrant Negro committed suicide here yesterday after threatening to shoot his half-brother if he intervened.

Officials identified the victim as Joe Jones, Negro farm laborer.

According to witnesses, Jones borrowed a .22 caliber rifle from a neighbor. His half - brother, Thomas Jones, attempted to stop him from pulling the trigger, but Joe said he would shoot him if he interferred.

EMBARRASSING MOMENT

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. accidentally turned in a false alarm Monday in demonstrating to newsmen and photographers a fluorescent paste that might deter people from turning in false alarms. Three engine companies, two fire trucks, a rescue squad, two battalion chiefs and a deputy chief responded.

Two Tiger Teams Rated Tops In AP National Grid Poll

LSU, Auburn Rated 1st & 2nd In Nation

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Louisiana State, the nation's only major college football team still unbeaten and untied, has opened up a wide lead in the race for the national championship in The Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportcasters.

With the season fast drawing to a close, a big vote of 183 writers and TV-radio men left LSU the unquestioned leader. Despite its close call against Mississippi State, which LSU barely topped 7-6, the No. 1 team polled 114 first place ballots.

Unless Tulane is able to upset Louisiana State in Saturday's regular season finale, the Tigers will wind up with a 10-0 record.

Auburn moved up to second place with strong support after its 21-6 victory over Georgia. Iowa, last week's runner-up, dropped to sixth position after losing to Ohio State 38-28.

Army remained in third position after its 26-0 decision over Villanova. The Cadets, tied by Pitt, still must beat Navy to finish the season unbeaten.

Oklahoma's decisive 39-0 thumping of Missouri moved the Sooners up to fourth place with 22 first place ballots. Each of the first four teams piled up more than 1,000 points on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second and so on down to one for 10th place.

Wisconsin held tight to fifth fifth after beating Illinois, 31-12, and Texas Christian advanced to seventh, a step behind Iowa, by knocking off Texas 22-8.

Purdue clung to eighth off its 23-6 triumph over Northwestern and the Air Force Academy advanced a peg to ninth. Syracuse made 10th place by bombing Colgate 47-0.

Syracuse, a newcomer, moved up as Mississippi, upset by Tennessee, skidded from seventh to 13th.

NBA Executive Board Plans Coach Rule

ST. LOUIS (AP)— The executive board of the National Basketball Assn. is studying a rule to tame down coaches who like to charge onto the playing floor and register violent protests with referees.

The board, in a session here today, looked over a rule which would fine a coach who has disputed a judgement $10 for the first infraction, $25 for the second, $50 for the third and expel him from the game on the fourth.

The board was told that only one coach, Red Auerbach of the Boston Celtics, had been fined for such antics this season. Auerbach drew a $150 fine.

A new rule which costs the team possession of the ball when an offensive foul is called has been changed.

Now a player will be charged with the foul but the team will not.

The owners felt officials were calling too many such fouls and the teams were amassing seven fouls too quickly.

The board met yesterday and today in closed sessions.

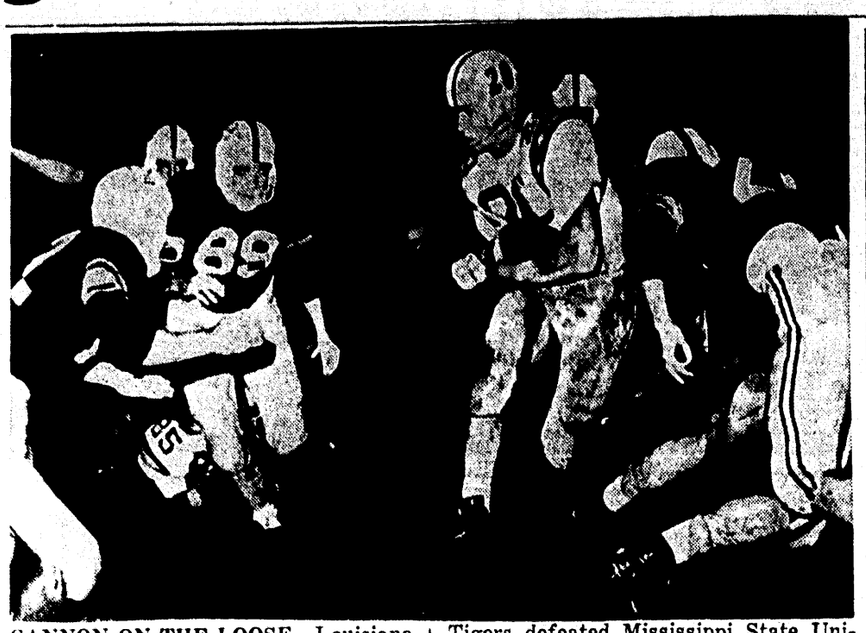
Bill Flamio Beats Lynch In 10-Rounder

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocky Bill Flamio tore after Eddie Lynch Monday night and again an upset unanimous decision over his lanky opponent in their 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

The weights of the two New Yorkers were Flamio, 146½ pounds; Lynch, 149.

Although Flamio had won a unanimous decision over Lynch in their first bout on July 21, Lynch was favored at 7-5 Monday night because of his supposed superior skill and speed.

However, Flamio went after Lynch with a slam-bang attack to body and head in the first round and continued until the final bell. There were no knockdowns but Lynch slipped to the canvas when grazed by a right in the fifth round.



CANNON ON THE LOOSE—Louisiana State University halfback Billy Cannon (20) rambles for eight yards to his own 26-yard line for a first down on a left end sweep in second quarter of game here Saturday night in Jackson as the Tigers defeated Mississippi State University by narrow score of 7-6. Closing in for tackle are Mississippi State's Billy Stacy (12) (left) and Gil Peterson (23) (right), both backs. (AP Wirephoto).

'New' Clarence Cook Faces Johnny Miller Here Tonight

Monroe area boxing fans get a look at the "new" Clarence Cook tonight at Kallio's Arena when the Bastrop belter squares off against young and promising Johnny Miler of St. Paul in one of the two ten-round feature bouts. The other will see popular Al Boudreaux facing a rough mauler named Eddie Dukes of Birmingham.

Cook has had three fights since beginning his comeback drive, winning two by kayos and one by decision. He knocked out Tommy Walker in one round and then halted Donny Russo in four before taking a unanimous ten round decision over Al Andrews in his last outing.

The Bastrop middleweight contender, more serious than ever about amounting to something in the fight game, says he intends to halt young Miler tonight, and he may do just that, since Miler has had only 13 fights, winning 11 and drawing in one, but only against mediocre opposition.

Training hard all the time, Cook is now in good condition and feels that with another tuneup bout or possibly two, he will be able to mix with the best again. Matchmaker Ray Kruger is now trying to line up Ramon Fuentes, Billy Kilgore and Wilf Greaves as future opponents.

While fans will be eager to see Cook in action again, they are not overlooking the Boudreaux-Dukes tussle. Boudreaux, one of the most popular battlers ever to show in a Monroe area ring, has been having a great year, winning nine fights in a row, and is eager for a chance at some "name lightweights. He had been offered a crack at Cook, but the wily Boudreaux felt that was biting off too much to chew.

The two main events will be backed up by two four rounders in which Monroe's Don Ware will be pitted against Jimmy Simms of Bastrop, and the very promising Ladell Pate of West Monroe will meet Jerry Boudreaux of Westwego. The latter is a brother of Al.

Pate now boasts 11 straight victories, eight of which were in the amateur ranks, and is still unbeaten. In his last fight, he decisioned clever Jimmy Rankin of Shreveport, after dropping Rankin in the second round.

Joe Knighten, the West Monroe backer of amateur boxing will again have two of his young fistic hopefuls appear in a special exhibition bout.

Ringside seats are priced at $2.50 for tonight's fight card, with general admission $1.50 and for children under 16 it will be 60 cents. The box office at Kallio's Arena will open at 6:30 p.m. and the first bout is slated to go on at 8 p.m.

Neville Cagers Open '58 Season

Neville kicks off its 1958 basketball season tonight with two games at Jena, the first of 23 regular season games.

Coach Babs Lee's state AA champion girls team has five letter-earners back from last season's unbeaten club, Brenda Cobb, Cecile Menuet, Roxanne Becker, Kathleen Terrell and Carolyn McCleary. Working out since September, the Neville girls should again be one of north Louisiana's best.

Other girls on the squad include Jean Shaughnessy, Dale Guilkey, Carol Cole, Teddy Dixon, Carol Bayon, Dianne LaGrange, and managers Lea Thompson and Jo Ann Genusa.

George Davis' boys, minus such stars as Fred Southerland and Francis Genusa, have four lettermen returning, Ronnie McNabb, a starter last year, Jeff Napper, Jay Goldsmith and Max Pennington. Joe Cage, a starter at the end of the 1957 season, is still out for football.

The four lettermen plus Burel Hanbon will start tonight. Other squad members are Ab Walker, L. M. Welch, Gordon Gibson, Gilbert Faulk, Chuck Rubey and Bob Caverlee.

The schedule:

Greenies Begin Preps For Tilt Against Old Foe

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane opened preps Monday for its battle Saturday against ancient rival Louisiana State with a defensive session.

Coach Andy Pilney conceded the Greenies have a monumental task ahead. Tulane faces the Tigers, top-ranked team in the country for the last three weeks, before a sellout crowd of more than 80,000.

Pilney had the squad working on defensive tactics it will use against LSU. Pilney had no scrimmage, but also worked the team on offensive signals.

Tulane came out of last Saturday's 12-0 loss to Vanderbilt with two players almost counted out of action against LSU.

WRESTLING

Gypsy, Stewart Win At Kallio's

Charley lost to Gypsy Joe in the final and deciding fall of last night's main event at Kallio's Arena and, as is true in so many cases, a woman caused his downfall.

Bad Charles was giving Gypsy a good going over, rebounding off the ropes with body blocks, when Gypsy's partner in the mixed tag bout, Nell Stewart, parted the ropes a bit and Charley flew through the ropes, hit the floor, injuring his back. Charley continued the bout but Gypsy pressed his weakened opponent to win the fall and the match after eight minutes.

Nell won the first fall of the match in 14 minutes, beating Celia Blevins with an overhead body spin and press. Laye whipped Joe in the second fall, using body blocks to take the nod after six minutes.

In the night's semi-final, state heavyweight champion Bill Barney defeated Viva Zapata. Bill took the first fall in 10 minutes with a one-leg crab hold.

Mexican Zapata rallied to cop the second fall after seven minutes, using a knee-drop to the chin and a press. Barney won the third in five minutes, again employing a one-leg crab.

Winnsboro Girls To Visit Central

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — Winnsboro's defending class A state champion girls team opens its basketball season tonight with a visit to Central of Delhi.

Coach Carrice Russell's Winnsboro girls will again be led by all-state forward Claudine Watson. Other returning squad members are Mary Cupp, Emma Browning, Susie Kelly, Joanne Henry, Ganeath Wilson and Linda Wiltshire.

Football Blues Prevail Across Northern Areas

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan no longer is champion of the West and the term "Splendid Spartans" no longer fits Michigan State.

No matter what these two teams do in their final games Saturday, the 1958 season will be remembered as the blackest in the state's football history.

Michigan is one of the schools that made people say that the best college football in the world is played in the Big Ten. When Michigan State went big-time under Biggie Munn in the late 1940s, the Spartans enhanced the state's reputation as the birthplace of champions.

Michigan's Wolverines have been playing collegiate football since 1879 and their upstate rivals started in 1896. Michigan has won more Big Ten football titles than any other school in conference history.

Unless Michigan defeats Ohio State next Saturday — and the Buckeyes are favored by at least two touchdowns — this will be Michigan's worst record in 23 years.

Michigan State is favored over Kansas State, and unless the Spartans come through with a victory this will be their worst campaign since 1917 when they failed to win in nine starts.

Regardless of the outcome of Saturday's games, the combined won-lost records of the two teams will be the worst in history.

Michigan's 2-5-1 record comes as no great surprise since most everyone predicted this would be an off-year for the Wolverines. Michigan says it is rebuilding and has promoted backfield coach Bump Elliott to the head coaching job, succeeding the retiring Bennie Oosterbaan.

Duffy Daugherty himself said this would be another fine year for State, and Spartan followers believed the coach. That is what makes Michigan State's 2-5-1 record so bad and now there is talk of a major split between Daugherty and Athletic Director Munn, the man Duffy replaced.

Even the University of Detroit, the state's third major college, has collapsed. The Titans announced a couple of seasons ago they were once again aiming for the big time, but they have a 3-4-1 record and reports are circulating that Coach Wally Fromhart is on his way out.

St. Matthews Vs. Mer Rouge Here Tonight

St. Matthew's surprising girls will be looking for their fourth straight victory and the unbeaten Fighting Irish boys will try for win No. 9 tonight as they host Mer-Rouge in a cage doubleheader.

St. Matt ew's girls, winless last season but 4-4 this year with three wins in a row, will meet one of north Louisiana's better girls teams in Mer Rouge. The visitors have won five and lost one for the season. Doris Hattaway is Mer Rouge's leading scorer with a 19 point everage while Adeline Elias is St. Matthew's top scorer.

St. Matthew's boys are 8-0 for the season with five players averaging in the double figures. J. L. Fontenot's Mer Rouge boys are 5-2 for the season and are paced by Alex Rankin, averaging 15 points, and John Yeldell, averaging 12 points.

Coach Jim Mahoney's Irish teams play at Weston Thursday and compete in the Eros Tournament over the weekend.

Northeast Cagers To Open Season Against Lamar Tech

The Northeast State College basketball team will open a 23-game schedule November 25 when they journey to Beaumont, Tex. to meet Lamar College of Technology. The South Texas school will have a brand new gymnasium scheduled to be open in time for the battle.

Coach "Lenny" Fant's Indians have only four players back from last year's squad that finished the season with an unpromising 8-15 record. In a recent interview, Fant said that his team was shorter than last year but that he had some promising scorers and may have some surprises in store.

Returning from last season's varsity are Billy May of Grayson, center, and John Freeman of Bismark, Mo., forward, seniors and co-captains last year and second and third high scorers of the 1957-58 squad. Vernon Cottrell of Dillard, Mo., center, and Larry Stegall of Desloge, Mo., guard, both juniors, also lettered here last year.

Sid Bradley of Bismark, senior guard, red-shirted here last season and earned a letter on the 1956-57 Northeast varsity.

Others on the 14-man team include: Fred Bradley, Bismark, Mo., forward; Jerry Alexander, Simsboro, La., guard; Ronald Doyle, Calvert City, Ky., forward; J. B. Edmiston, Simsboro, guard; David Harkins, Hico, La., forward; Lanny Johnson, Monroe, forward; Mickey Kitchens, Keltys, Tex., guard; William McKay, Monroe, guard, and Jerry Rouse, Gulfport, Miss., forward.

Several junior college transfers and some promising freshmen are included in the squad, Fant said, adding that the Indians could still be the doormat in the strong Gulf States Conference which has Louisiana Tech, Northwestern, and McNeese, some of the strongest teams in the South of the so-called "small college" variety. Along with these, the Indians play Lamar Tech, Arkansas State and the AAU champions, Pemex Oilers of Mexico.

Northeast opens the first of 10 scheduled conference games on January 10, 1959 when they host Southeastern Louisiana College. The first home game will be a December 3 meeting with Texas Wesleyan.

In addition to the regularly-scheduled games, the Indians are sponsoring a Christmas Tournament December 29-30 at Monroe. Besides the host team, Northeast Oklahoma, Oklahoma Baptist and Lamar Tech vie for honors.

Home games of the Indians this year will be played in the gymnasium of the Ouachita Parish Junior High School on South Grand Street and will begin at 8 p.m.

Mort Cooper-Old Card Star Dies

ST. LOUIS, (AP) — When the St. Louis Cardinals won the 1942 National League pennant they had a couple of kids named Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter in the lineup along with Marty Marion, Whitey Kurowski and Terry Moore.

And they had a big right-hander named Mort Cooper, who won 22 games, led the league in earned run average and became the fifth pitcher to be named the league's most valuable player.

Yet, ironically, Cooper, who died Monday in a Little Rock hospital, was the Cards' only loser as they shocked the New York Yankees in the World Series in five games.

That Series provided one of the biggest upsets since the miracle Braves took the Athletics four straight in 1914. The Cardinals pulled off a four-game sweep after losing the opener, and it was Cooper, a 6-2, 200-pounder who lost it.

The big man in the Cards' pennant drive, Cooper was beaten 7-4, and then was knocked out of the box once more when the Cards won the fourth game 9-6.

That 1942 season started a three year peak for Cooper in his 11-year major league career. He put away 65 of his 128 victories in that span with the Cards, yet never managed an outstanding record as a World Series (2-3) or All-Star (0-2) pitcher.

Well, almost never.

There was the 1943 World Series, when the Yankees regained the championship four games to one. That lone Cardinal victory went to Mort, with brother Walker catching in the second game — although their father had died that morning.

Mort, the elder of the Coopers, allowed only six hits and beat the Yankees 4-3 in a duel with Ernie Bonham.

Yet it was Mort, after striking out the first five men he faced, who lost the final game of the series 2-0 on Bill Dickey's two-run homer in the sixth inning.

In 1944, Mort lost another tough Series game, this time to the St. Louis Browns. He allowed only two hits in his seven innings, but lost to Denny Galehouse when George McQuinn hit a two-run homer in the fourth inning for a 2-1 victory.

The Cards won the series in six games with Cooper coming back to beat Galehouse 2-0 in the fifth game. He struck out 12.

Mort reached the majors first in what was to become one of the game's most famous brother batteries. He made the Cardinals' spring roster in 1937. But Cooper didn't stick with St. Louis until 1939 when he had a 12-6 record.

Once with the Cards he kept after the front office to keep an eye on his brother. "Someday," he told them, "you'll be hearing about another brother battery like the Ferrells (Wes and Rick) — Cooper and Cooper."

Walker reached the Cards in 1940 and took over as their regular catch in 1942 — the year Mort hung up his first 20-victory season.

Death was caused by cirrhosis of the liver and bacterialogical infection. He had been a patient at St. Vincent's infirmary about three weeks.

The last five years he had been connected with a boys club at Houston, Tex.

Morton and his brother, Walker Cooper, formed the famed brother battery for the Cardinals. He pitched for the Cards eight seasons, 1938 through 1945.

Mangham Teams Play At Start

MANGHAM, La. (Special) — Mangham boys and girls play their first regularly scheduled basketball games of the season Tuesday night at Start. The girls game will start at 7 and the boys play at 8.

The games were originally scheduled for the Mangham gym but were shifted early this week.

BANDITS WRITE

Wet Turf, Mysterious Note Almost Ruin LSU's Record

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State's racehorse backfield found the going rough on a rain-softened field against Mississippi State. And a mysterious note had the Maroons bent on ruining LSU's record as the last of the nation's major unbeaten and untied teams.

Coach Paul Dietzel was the first to admit his Tigers, ranked No. 1 in the nation by The Associated Press for the last three weeks, were "very, very lucky to win" Saturday night's encounter 7-6.

"There is no better equalizer than rain and a wet field in football," Dietzel said.

Dietzel was laden with comment, some of it verging on frustration, but the score helped him to put it aside.

"You win 7-6 or 70-6" he said, "you still win, that's what counts."

All-America halfback candidate Billy Cannon and his running mates couldn't generate the power that pushed them to eight straight victories. Cannon finished with 57 yards in 13 trips and was very unhappy about his three fumbles.

Cannon said he didn't want to blame the rain and mud entirely, but "when you can't hold the ball with two hands, something's wrong with you."

Trailing 6-0, LSU finally jumped into the scoring column on a 5-yard pass from quarterback Warren Rabb to end Billy Hendrix. Fullback Tommy Davis booted the winning extra point.

Mississippi State, loser of four of seven earlier games despite lofty pre-season predictions, had good reason to be fired-up for the Tigers.

State Coach Wade Walker turned over to quarterback Billy Stacy and the rest of the State squad a note reputedly signed by the "Chinese Bandits," LSU's celebrated defensive unit.

The note read:

"The easiest way out is to forfeit the game. Time is running short for Stacy and you bloomer girls. This one will separate the men from the boys."

"Man, you know those fellows must think they're smart to do a thing like that," Stacy said.

Dietzel's only comment on that note was to contend, "please give us credit for more sense than that."

RUSHING, PASSING

Cannon, Petitbon Leads SEC Stars

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — That Louisiana State-Tulane battle at New Orleans Saturday will have everything — and a little more.

There'll be tradition, bowl importance, and a contest between the best runner and the top passer in the Southeastern Conference. Statistics through last Saturday released by SEC commissioner Bernie Moore tell the story.

The runner: LSU's Billy Cannon, who has carried 100 times for 569 yards and a 5.7-yard average per try. The passer: Tulane's Richie Petitbon, who with a good day could become the first SEC back to gain 1,000 yards this season.

Petitbon has passed for 706 yards and carried for 239 for a total of 945. He has completed 64 aerials for 116 yards and three touchdowns, and his .552 percentage of completions is the second best among the leaders.

Bobby Franklin of Mississippi rates second to Petitbon in total offense with 821 yards—213 rushing and 608 passing. Lloyd Nix of Auburn fell from first to second place in passing yardage. Franklin is the leading touchdown passer of the conference with eight scoring tosses to his credit.

Calvin Bird of Kentucky can file homestead rights to the pass receiving leadership anyday he wants now. He has caught 21 for 373 yards and four touchdowns. Larry Grantham of Mississippi has four TD catches on his record.

Eros Tourney Get Underway Thursday

EROS, La. (Special) — The Eros High School Invitational Tournament will get underway Thursday, November 20th with two Monroe teams having a chance to meet in the finals on Saturday night in the boys' division. In the upper bracket the Irish of Jim Mahoney's fighting St. Matthew team are favored on present dope. The Neville Tigers are just starting the season, but have a good chance to beat out the opposition and grab the lower bracket for Coach Davis.

In the girls' division little is known of the relative strength of the teams, but Calhoun, Grayson and Neville are known to be strong, while Kelly always is dangerous. Chatham's scrappy lassies, along with the Columbia sextet, will furnish plenty of fireworks. Dodson, St. Matthew's, and Eros round out the bracket with one of the most even tournaments in years expected.

Harold Waldrip's high - flying Grayson boys are rated as able to beat anyone in the area and are given the top spot by many observers. Coach Bates has entered a strong Dodson team and should be in the thick of the fight.

The Weston boys under Coach B. A. Busbice have been clicking off a fast brand of ball and may be the "dark horse" of the tournament, while the popular squad of Frank Mancial from Columbia will not be coming over for the ride.

Chatham has a fast, hustling quintet under Coach A. E. Hood, and always manages to deal the big teams trouble. The host team from Eros lost many of its big guns which powered the Panthers to the district title last season, but Coach Crawford Vines is not an easy man to beat on any court and with a determined bunch of youngsters will probably give the fans something to cheer for. The same may be said for the Choudrant "Aggies" who are ready to give their best and may provide Coach Joe Mabry with upsets over stronger teams.

Auburn Added To Sugar Bowl 'Hopeful' List

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Auburn was added to the list of Sugar Bowl prospects Monday but Southeastern Conference commissioner Bernie Moore said he didn't think the team would be able to play.

The Sugar Bowl executive committee will meet Tuesday to consider possible opponents for the Jan. 1 game. Sugar Bowl president Claude (Monk) Simons said one possibility was Auburn, if the team agreed to donate its bowl receipts to charity.

The unbeaten, once-tied SEC powerhouse is under an NCAA suspension which keeps it from taking part in any post-season activity.

"Of course, I can't answer for the NCAA," Moore said in Atlanta, Ga., "but my guess would be the NCAA wouldn't even consider lifting the probation."

Dietzel Lauds End Play Of Billy Hendrix

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Louisiana State coach Paul Dietzel Monday praised end Billy Hendrix for a job well done in LSU's 7-6 victory over Mississippi State Saturday night.

Dietzel said Hendrix rallied the Tiger defense, recovered two Mississippi State fumbles and caught a touchdown pass.

Hendrix, primarily a defensive star, has blossomed into one of LSU's best receivers. He has caught four touchdown passes this season.

In preparing for Tulane, the team heard a scouting report and ran through a line offensive signal drill. The defense also worked against Tulane plays run by freshmen.

Gen. Troy Middleton, president of LSU and an alumnus of Mississippi State, attended practice and was presented the ball used in last Saturday night's game. The ball was autographed by the coach and members of the squad.

Cannon Trails Bird In SEC Scoring Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Calvin Bird, Kentucky's talented sophomore halfback, holds a 13-point lead over Louisiana State's Billy Cannon in the Southeastern Conference scoring race with only one more game to go.

The Wildcats end their regular season Saturday against Tennessee and the Tigers meet Tulane in their finale.

Bird ran for one touchdown, caught a pass for another and kicked a conversion against Xavier to break out of a tie with Cannon and run his season total to 65 points. Cannon did not score against Mississippi State so his count remained at 52 points.

The LSU All-America prospect will have to go on a real touchdown binge against Tulane to oust Bird from top spot.

None of the other players in the league is close to Bird and Cannon, but Alabama quarterback Bobby Jackson has an outside chance to move up from third place. Jackson scored twice against Georgia Tech and boosted his total to 36 points. He has two games left—Memphis State and Auburn—in which to overhaul the pacesetters.

Fullback Tommy Davis of LSU, whose conversion provided the Tigers' victory margin in the Mississippi State game, is fourth with 33 points. Two Mississippi stars, quarterback Bobby Franklin and placement kicking expert Bob Khayat, have 32 each.

Tulane quarterback Richie Petitbon is seventh with 30 points. LSU end Billy Hendrix, Vanderbilt end Lewis (Rooster) Akin and Vandy halfback Tom Moore are next with 26 apiece.

With 213 points in 9 games, LSU continues to pace the team scoring, averaging 23.7 per outing. LSU and Auburn share the point-defense lead, each allowing a shade less than 6 points per game.

TACKLES OUT

Giants Have 1 Good Tackle Left

NEW YORK (AP) — Tackle Roosevelt Brown is out of the hospital, but the New York Giant are anything but out of the woods in their long-shot bid for the Eastern Conference title in the National Football League.

With Brown—and halfback Alex Webster and tackle-guard Jack Stroud — out of action, the Giants blew their share of the Eastern lead in that nightmare at Pittsburgh Sunday won by the Steelers 31-10.

All three first liners were hung up in the Baltimore upset of two weeks ago that hoisted the Giants into a tie with the Cleveland Browns. Only Stroud is a sure bet to be available when the Giants begin their "win-'em-all-or-out" drive against Washington this weekend in Yankee Stadium.

Brown, a 6-3, 245-pounder, suffered a fractured cheekbone in the Colt game. He was released from the hospital yesterday, but is still troubled by dizzy spells and a sinus condition. Brown will work out today, but Dr. Francis Sweeney, team physician, doubted he'll be ready for Sunday's game.

Coach Jim Lee Howell said "we'll jog him today, but if his head bothers him, we'll just have to let up."

Webster, who was suited up for the Pittsburgh game as was Stroud, is a possible starter against the Redskins, although Howell remained pessimistic.

"We had Alex with us at Pittsburgh" said Howell, "but that damaged right ankle and knee had him limping badly. He's the type of runner who depends on the big cut, and right now it doesn't look at all good."

Whether the Giants are out of the race depends on what they do against Washington — and Philadelphia and Detroit. They have to beat all three to have any hope of forcing a title playoff in the close out game with Cleveland December 14.

Cleveland has a 6-2 record, losing to the Giants at Cleveland and to Detroit. The Giants are 5-3, losing to Philadelphia, the Chicago Cardinals and the Steelers. Each has four games left, and the Browns should come up to the December game with a 9-2 record.

Sunday's loss to the Steelers at least left the Giants without further serious injuries, although rookie Phil King, subbing for Webster, bruised some ribs.

After an earlier 17-10 victory over the Steelers, that Sunday defeat was a tough one for Howell to swallow, particularly after the Giants had built a 10-0 lead.

"It looked like we had them cold," said Howell. "We were still driving early in the third period, then we went bad.

"I thought the holes (the Giants' offensive line opened) were big in Pittsburgh, but after viewing films of the game they looked even larger. They were there all right, but we didn't get the points."

DRAWS BYE

Crowville Named 3-B Grid Champ

Crowville was declared district 3-B's 1958 football champion yesterday in a meeting of the district's championship committee at Wisner, committee member Raymond Peace, Sicily Island principal, said last night.

Crowville, only undefeated team in district play, closed its season Friday night with a 7-7 tie with loop rival Wisner. A three-way playoff between Crowville, Waterproof and Block had been proposed to determine the district champion. Waterproof and Block each had one defeat in district play.

The three-man committee was composed of H. J. Ross, Wisner principal and group chairman, Walter Annette, Davidson principal, and Peace.

Crowville draws a bye in the first round of the state playoffs and will meet the winner of the playoff between the champions of districts 1 and 2. Holly Ridge won the 2-B championship while Plain Dealing and Bernice play at Haynesville Friday night for the 1-B championship.

Recreation Basketball

Ridge Avenue edged Trinity Baptist, 13-12, last night in the West Monroe Junior League as Dan Tolar of the winners and Billy Doener scored 4 points each. First Baptist downed Edgewood, 23-8, with the winners' Jim Bond scoring 6 and Lloyd Salter of Edgewood putting in 6. The Freshmen whipped Claiborne, 28-4, with Ricky Fields leading the way with 8 and Griggs getting 3 for the losers.

Edgewood routed First Baptist, 48-18, in the Adult League as former Louisiana Tech star L. V. Norris scored 25 for the winners. Kenneth Bates got 8 for the losers.

By, For and about WOMEN

BLACK VELVET UNDERSCORES the holiday season for many women but if it happens to be imprinted with pale blue roses the combination is high fashion. Here it is used for an easy-to-wear dress with modified bubble skirt caught into a narrow band at the knees. Of rayon, this cocktail and dinner dress has shallow scooped neckline, three-quarter sleeves and self-bows atop the narrow knee band!

ABOUT FASHIONS

Drama And Elegance Good Holiday Theme

By MARIAM RAHL

Velvet, brocade, elegant printed woolens, fringe chinchilla, fur accessories - these are some of the ingredients you can whip up into a holiday wardrobe with ease this winter. Designers have given us a lavish look that is hard to resist in little jacket costumes and dresses with shilloutte interest.

The Josephine and Empire look can be yours in a modified form — the slim dress with semi - fit sheath silhouette, accented at the bustline, to wear with or without its interesting jacket. Soft curving lines characterize the extra jacket with "theatre" suits; some have fur collars; some are entirely of flat broadtail type furs. Or if you want the very special dress for parties, you can rely on silhouette news in the easier-to-wear bubble shapes; slim unfitted lines caught suddenly into tight bands at the knee.

Excellent for the festive season are handsome Avisco rayon crepes and velvets some of the latter printed in beautiful florals — pale blue roses scattered over a black surface; rusty orange hues on brown for a new look in pile fabrics. You'll find the costume dinner dress and jacket in knits — for example — the blend of Zefran and wool that has wrinkle resistance, holds its shape and otherwise performs well for a busy holiday round of festivities.

Look for the added feminine touches this year — bows in many new places as the bustline and knees; the arrangement of fringe in many tiers for the utmost animation or draped - like long silken threads from the bust or waistline to the knees; there's a soft look to printed wool with fur trimming; there's a bright scintillating aura to beading and sequin touches— any one of which can underscore your charms this year.

HERE'S THE "LITTLE THEATRE SUIT" in all its elegance for winter, 1958-59. This dress and bolero-jacket ensemble comes in a black-blue paisley printed wool. Empress Chinchilla is the fabulous fur treatment for a wide collar and front facing!

West Coast Elite Look To Queen's Visit

By DOROTHY ROE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The normally casual West Coast is breaking out in a rash of protocol, court etiquette and regal ball gowns.

California debutantes who know what to do on a golf course or a beach are learning how to curtsy —with some growing pains.

The Los Angeles haute couture is being flooded with orders for formal ball gowns, and the book stores are selling out Emily Post

It's all because of the impending visit of Queen Frederika and Princess Sophie of Greece, and the Imperial Ball to be held in Beverly Hills Nov. 22.

Out here in the free-and-easy West, the girls are taking their curtsy lessons seriously, and there is a rush of business at the salon of Emmaline Snively, an expert on such matters, whose business normally is training fashion models.

Miss Snively knows a trend when she sees one, and she says this year's trend is definitely regal. She discovered Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield even before American men did, and gave them their first modeling jobs.

"A proper curtsy looks as easy as a whirl by a professional model," says she, "but it takes just about as much mirror drill."

Women aren't the only ones having their troubles in preparation for the Imperial Ball. California men, who prefer to dress in sports coats and slacks, are ordering white ties and tails, and are being schooled by determined wives in how to wear them.

They also are practicing the court bow, while criticizing their womenfolks' efforts at the curtsy. The regal curtsy it must be pointed out, requires that the right knee must touch the floor.

There hasn't been such a ruckus in these parts, they tell me, since the Prince of Wales made his historic visit to the West Coast after World War I.

Mr. Wiggers Celebrates 83rd Birthday

Mrs. H. A. Wiggers, Sr. of Oak Ridge honored her husband on his 83rd birthday with a lovely dinner in their home. A beautifully decorated cake was brought to the honoree by his daughter-in-law and granddaughter of Rayville, Mrs. Nell Wiggers and little Barbara Lucille who delighted the group singing Happy Birthday to her grandfather.

Sharing the occasion with Mr. and Mrs. Wiggers were Mrs. H. A. Wiggers, Jr. and Barbara of Rayville, Mrs. M. C. White of West Monroe, Dr. Harry Jordan of Rayville, Mrs. Fannie Travis and Mrs. Mattie Holt of Delhi and Miss Lucille Huffman of Oak Ridge.

Built-In Nook Safe Place For Records

If you have trouble keeping those precious phonograph records together in one safe place, give a thought to a built - in record nook along your living room or rec room wall. Stored flat against the wall, the records take up surprisingly little space. You might want to make separate compartments for classical, popular and other types of records. For beauty and security, cover the surfaces with gleaming ceramic tile. It affords protection from heat and moisture and is simple to keep clean.

Taylor-Hunt Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Hunt of Rayville announce the marriage of their daughter, Frances Earline to Robert Aubrey Taylor of Mangham. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor of Mangham.

The wedding took place on Tuesday, November 6, in Jena, Louisiana. Mrs. Taylor is a graduate of Rayville High School and attended Northeast Louisiana State College in Monroe. Mr. Taylor is a graduate of Mangham High School.

The couple are at home at 227 Julia Street in Rayville.

Book Club Hosted By Mrs. Fluker

The Miro Book 'Club met with Mrs. Horace Fluker as hostess at the Rendezvous last Monday.

Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, president presided at the meeting. A new member, Mrs. L. F. Rolleigh was welcomed into the club. The Louisiana Federation of Women's Club bulletin was read by the secretary, Mrs. B. L. Mulhearn. Mrs. D. M. Moore the speaker of the day, gave a review on "The Three World of Albert Schweitzer" by Robert Payne.

A DOUBLEBREASTED coatdress is designed for the smart young miss who likes the easy lines of a chemise with some fool-the-eye potentialities. In a checked cotton knit that never sags it can be worn for early fall wear looking very much like a coat and later, of course, it will go under topcoats with ease. Two patch pockets and low back half belt are sharply defined for attention.

'DEAR ABBY'

Should Be Glad He Didn't Speak English

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My father has a bad temper. For example when the Yanks won the game he kicked the TV set and it doesn't work any more. My main problem is this: He cusses us kids out in a foreign language so loud that everybody on the block can hear. All I said was, "Pa, if you are going to cuss us out in front of the neighborhood the least you can do is to learn it in English." For this, he hit me right in the mouth. Was that fair?

JOEY (age 11)

DEAR JOEY: I don't know what your father said when he lost his temper, but maybe you should be glad he didn't say it in English.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 19-year-old girl who let a man sweet-talk me into ruining my life. He said he was 30 but I found out he was 40. He lied about his religion, his past and where he worked. He served time and has been married. I had to find this all out by myself. After he learned I was pregnant he offered to marry me, but I wouldn't marry him if he was the last man on earth. My mother says I am a disgrace to womankind to turn down a chance to marry and give my baby a name, but I can't see myself married a lifetime to the likes of him. I intend to put my child up for adoption, as I have nothing to give it, not even a dozen diapers. Am I being selfish or am I doing right?

MESSED-UP LIFE

DEAR MESSED-UP: You are wiser than most girls who have found themselves in similar circumstances. Marriage IS forever and not a momentary, cure-all for one mistake. A Girl who ties herself to a hopeless character in order to give her baby "a name" —lives to regret it.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I had a good laugh over that letter from the lady with the large nose who was afraid to marry the man with a still larger nose for fear their children would have "noses to end all noses." Both my husband and I have large noses and when I was pregnant I prayed for a boy because I didn't want a little girl with a nose such as could have come from us. We have two lovely daughters and they have the cutest little noses in town. So I say,, "Go ahead and marry—God takes care of those little details."

MARGIE

DEAR MARGIE: And if God doesn't—the plastic surgeons do.

DEAR ABBY: I am the most broken-hearted person on earth. I always found time to go everywhere else but to see my dear old gray-haired parents. They sat home alone, loving me just the same. It is too late now to give them those few hours of happiness I was too selfish and too busy to give, and now when I go to visit their graves and look at the green grass above them I wonder if God will ever forgive me for the heartaches I must have caused them. I pray that you will print this, Abby to tell those who still have their parents to visit them and show their love and respect while there is still time. For it is later than you think.

TOO LATE

TEEN-AGE MAIL

Advised Not To Marry Now, Talk It Over

By DOROTHY RICKER

Dear Mrs. Ricker:

I am 17 years old. I have had several "summer romances" but none as serious as this. Four years ago, during my vacation, I met a wonderful boy. We had loads of fun together, dating, swimming, golfing and playing tennis. We both love children and, surprisingly enough, he is an excellent cook. I live on an island outside of the U. S. and he said he would come here to visit me.

Jokingly he told me that if I continued to look as he thought I would, he would ask me to marry him. That was in 1954. Now, in 1958, four years later, he has come here. We have been dating and four days ago he asked me to marry him. I asked if he was joking but he said he was very sincere. He has finished college; I have not started yet and I promised my father I would finish college before marrying but I am very much in love with John.

As I pointed out, we've been separated a long time but I never forgot him. Should I finish college and then marry or should I get married now? Please help me.

Desperately in Love

Dear D. I. L.:

As I see this problem, there are two factors which make the advisability of marrying John right now questionable. The first is that you were only 13 when you first met him — too young to have had much dating experience (if any) and certainly too young to become very serious about any boy.

Then there is the four year lapse in which you apparently did not see John at all. Judging by your letter I would guess he has not been on your island very long; so you see, even though you met four years ago, you still have not spent a great deal of time together since you have 'grown up.'

I think this is a situation which should be talked over at length with your parents and John—together. You are still quite young to marry and, to me, it would seem much wiser to give yourself more time to be sure of your feelings for John. In the meantime, if you have the opportunity to acquire a college education, my advice is to take advantage of it.

Nice Boys Are There—
If You Look Hard Enough

Dear Mrs. Ricker:

My girl friend (16) and I (14) are writing in hopes that you will soon answer. Our problem is that all we do is sit on the front porch and watch the cars go by and, believe me, that can get very dull. We would like to know if there are some organizations where girls can meet some good, clean-cut boys. We both have been told that we are nice looking.

Two Sitting Ducks

Dear "Sitting Ducks":

I notice that you live in a good-sized city where you should be able to find some "good, clean-cut" boys right in your own school, local teen-age recreation centers and church youth groups. By joining mixed group activites at all three places you are bound to make friends with nice boys and girls. You see, girls, you first must realize that people and good times will not come searching for you, you have to make a real effort to find both. So, instead of complaining about how dull life is, get off the front porch and do something to improve things. Make it a point to be interesting and full of fun yourselves; the kind of girls who attract "clean-cut" boys. Then look for them where I suggested. They are there if you look hard enough —I'll guarantee it!

Opening Lead: 10 of diamonds

North Dealer
The bidding:

		1C	P
1S	P	4S	P
6S	P	P	P

The North hand is a maximum opening one no trump; however, in view of its richness in primary controls plus the fact that the hand contained four spades (many experts prefer not to open one no trump on an 18 point hand with four spades), North decided to bid one club. The one spade response was made to order and North promptly and properly raised to four. South correctly carried on to slam.

The play is simple, but effective. Declarer drew trumps, eliminated hearts and diamonds, and led the small club to the ace. West made a valiant effort and threw his king, but South's jack provided the twelfth trick. South's line of play required only the doubleton king or queen of clubs in either hand to succeed . . . . by far the best percentage play.

Work Space Found With Countertops

Is the lack of work space in your home throwing you for a loss? Now's the time for a counter offensive.

The wise homemaker knows that the answer to insufficient working space in the kitchen, bathroom and elsewhere is the installation or expansion of counter areas. Crowded or cluttered counters are real time wasters.

In installing your counters, be sure that the surfacing material is right for the job. Real ceramic tile is ideal for virtually all purposes. In addition, it comes in so many colors and designs that it will fit tastefully into any surroundings.

One of the musts for kitchen counter areas is a surface that can withstand high temperatures without fading or cracking. According to University of Illinois researchers, ceramic tile rates "excellent" for its ability to resist heat.

Unlike some surfacing materials, real tile resists virtually all stains and is not affected by sunlight. This latter property is an important consideration as many counter areas are located near windows.

Ceramic tile also rates at the top for ease of cleaning. A swipe with a damp cloth or sponge is all that is necessary to keep this surface fresh and gleaming.

More and more housewives are discovering the convenience of a countertop in the bathroom. With this additional space, the medicine cabinet can be restored to its intended function. Your counter can hold your immediately-needed supplies, plus a few added touches such as ash trays and a vase of flowers.

'The Silver Cord' Opens Tomorrow

Curtain time is 8 p.m. for "The Silver Cord," which opens Wednesday for a two - night run in Brown Auditorium on the Northeast State campus.

Sidney Howard's American masterpiece is being directed by George C. Brian of the college drama faculty as the fall semester major production.

The performances are open to the public, Brian announced.

"Everything is ready for Wednesday night's show," the director said. "The cast has shaped up well, rehearsals have been advancing satisfactorily and the set is complete."

The play concerns a possessive mother who will not let her sons live independently of her care, protection and love. "The Silver Cord" is a dramatic sermon worthy of anyone's time, Brian said. Highly acclaimed by critics and writers, the play is a well remembered production of our nation's dramas. It is one of the outstanding Theatre Guild successes.

Gerry Kenny, of Monroe, recognized for her work in performances at Northeast and The Monroe Little Theatre, carries the role of the mother, Mrs. Phelps, left a widow at an early age. The two sons, David and Robert, are played respectively by Bill Norris and Norman Jones, both of West Monroe.

Linda Garrett of West Monroe carries the part of Christina, who marri- David Phelps while he is abroad. Immediately there is conflict between the young wife and David's mother. But this is not the only major problem. The younger son, Robert, becomes engaged to a delightful girl, Hester, played by Mickey Burford of Monroe. It is then that Christina decides to bring things to a head. The sons must make their final c ision — they ill lead their own lives or continue to be submerged to the will of their possessive mother.

For the staging of such conflict a great deal of attention has been given to design and preparation of the two sets which "The Silver Cord" requires. Scenery has been prepared by the class in stagecraft.

Grange Would Have Farmers Pick Type Aid

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP—The National Grange proposed today that producers of each farm commodity be allowed to chose through referenda the type of farm-aid program they deem best suited to the commodity.

The farm organization has suggested in convention resolutions that such programs be managed by organized producers, under guidance of the government.

The Grange declared that agriculture faces the prospect of overproduction for years to come, hence, it said, effective ways must be found to adjust production to markets or else farmers will suffer economically.

"We reaffirm the Grange position favoring self-help programs developed along commodity-by-commodity lines. Therein lies the power to manage our production and our marketing in such a manner as to provide consumers with an abundance without overabundance at prices reasonable to both producers and consumers," the resolution said.

"We believe," the Grange said, "that the control of farm programs should be primarily in the hands of farmers. It is our belief that the cost of these programs should be born by producers to the extent that the benefits accure to them. We deny that such management impairs essential freedom.

Feather Push Engine Seen As Space Aid

NEW YORK (AP)—A new engine to reach toward Mars—that operates something like a feather pushing an elephant—was described Monday by space scientists.

The model engine, shown to the public for the first time, is an ion propulsion chamber developed by scientists at Rocketdyne Division of North American Aviation, Inc. It was described at a meeting of the American Rocket Society.

It would be an excellent engine as long as it could be boosted into space by more powerful chemical rockets, the scientists said.

Some 100 miles above the earth, where the engine's small thrust could counteract the lessened attraction of gravity, the engine would be useful.

Rocketdyne also said it had just started a new test laboratory for the ion rocket engine at Rocketdyne headquarters in Canoga Park, Calif.

An ion engine developing only a pound of thrust could put a 10,000 pound vehicle in the neighborhood of Mars in nine months, or near the moon in three months.

In the vacuum environment of space, away from the great gravity that holds us to earth, the ion engine would take over with its gentle push that it can produce for months at a time.

The engine first vaporizes its fuel—for instance cesium, a soft, white metal, which becomes cesium vapor or gas.

Then the metallic vapor is fed into a chamber where an electric arc boosts the heat to 1,400 to 1,600 degrees centigrade — roughly 100 times as hot as a big electric stove.

This knocks loose an electron from each molecule of the vaporized fuel—leaving the molecule with a positive charge.

Then this positively charged matter is given a big jolt of electricity—some 12,000 volts—which speeds it up to 300,000 to 400,000 miles an hour.

This stream of speeding ions—positively charged molecules of gas — provides the propulsive force.

Godiva Wheels Up To Crub; Is Promptly Jailed

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A motorized Lady Godiva selected one of the chilliest days of the fall season to shock merchants in the Firestone district Monday.

She roared up to the curb, shut off the motor, and stepped out on the sidewalk, clad in white tennis shoes. Nothing else. A flustered merchant proffered a blanket to guard her against the biting wind. She refused it. Police tried to persuade her to don some clothing, and, failing, hustled her off to jail.

The blue-eyed blonde refused to give her name but said she is 31.

Prepare Remains Of Power For Trip To America

MADRID (UPI) —The body of Tyrone Power was prepared Monday night for removal to the United States in a sealed casket. His pregnant widow, Deborah Anne, will accompany the body on the plane for California via New York.

The body of the 44-year - old matinee idol was removed from the clinic where he was pronounced dead Saturday after suffering a heart attack, and taken to the mortuary at the U.S. Air Force Strategic Command Base at Torrejon. The body was embalmed there and sealed in the casket.

Mrs. Power, who is expecting a baby in February, and Bill Gallager, Power's secretary for the last 20 years, will fly home with the body.

ROMANTIC CAREER

Ty Linked With Many Beauties

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tyrone Power, the ideal lover on the screen, led an equally romantic career in real life.

His good looks, his gracious manner and worldliness swayed the hearts of some of Hollywood's most famous beauties. Yet his last love was a complete unknown to the movie world.

Tyrone's first Hollywood love was Sonja Henie. Their romance may have been studio-inspired, since they were co - starring in "Thin Ice." But it became more than a publicity match, and friends expected them to marry.

But Sonja went to Norway and Ty began dating Janet Gaynor. They almost reached an engagement too, but soon parted and he began escorting Arleen Whelan. His propensity for dating his costars was borne out with Norma Shearer ("Marie Antoinette"), Loretta Young ("Love Is News"), and Annabella ("Suez).

Often his romances were with actresses older than himself. Annabella was divorced and had a 9-year-old daughter. Desperately in love, Tyrone and Annabella tried for a special dispensation so they could marry in the Roman Catholic Church. It was not g ted, but they married anyway, when Power was 25.

"Married to her," Tyrone declared after a year, "riches never cease."

Annabella found him a different man when he returned from the war. "Freedom's the greatest thing in the world to me," he said, and their marriage ended after seven years and no children.

"Ty Power's the only man I've ever loved." This bold statement came from Lana Turner as she and Ty engaged in a torrid romance between marriages. She proved her point by vanishing from the set of "Green Dolphin Street" and turning up in the heart of Mexico where he was filming "captain From Castile."

They might have married, except that Ty was not yet free from Annabella. As was often the case with Lana, the romance cooled and they went separate ways.

Linda Christian had known Ty slightly in Hollywood. So when the ambitious beauty from Mexico discovered he was staying in the same hotel in Rome, she telephoned him. They met for cocktails, and another tumultuous romance began.

"We want our marriage quiet," Linda said, but the Italians thought otherwise. They staged a Roman circus while the couple took their vows in the church of Santa Francesca Romana.

They had two daughters and a fast life in various capitals of the world. Hollywood whispered that while Ty was working abroad, she was being escorted by a young Britisher, Edmund Purdom. The end finally came when she testified in tears that Ty liked to take trips but not with her. Her attorney estimated the settlement at over a million dollars.

Ty continued his travels and gloried in the single life. Last year in Mexico City he told me: "I'm very happy the way I am now. I know several girls here and there who are excellent company and who have no thoughts of matrimony. Those who do are quickly discovered and eliminated."

Yet he again married, this time to a non-professional, Mississippi belle Debbie Smith Minardos. Last June, they announced happily that they were expecting a child in February. She had a daughter of her own by a previous marriage, and they were hoping for a son.

HIKES PAY

BAGHDAD, Iraq (UPI) — Premier Abdul Karim Kassem has boosted pay for minor government officials and promised additional increases for policemen. Kassem said all officials whose monthly salaries were less than $25 would get $5 hikes retroactive to Nov. 1.

Norfolk Voters Decide Today On School Operation

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Norfolk voters decide today whether they want six closed white secondary schools returned to the city for integrated operation.

A vote of between 22,000 and 25,000 was forecast, with some experienced political observers predicting a 3-2 margin against petitioning Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. to return the schools. Registration lists show 40,758 whites and 8,540 Negroes eligible to vote.

The informational referendum is not binding on City Council or on Almond. At least five of the seven council members have indicated they will act on the basis of a majority vote.

The three junior high and three senior high schools were closed Sept. 29 under Virginia's anti-integration laws when the city school board bowed to a Federal Court desegregation order and enrolled 17 Negroes.

Tomorrow, a three-judge Federal Court opens a hearing on the constitutionality of the school-closing law. The suit, which named Almond among the defendants, was brought by white parents.

Neither side in the school question would chance a prediction on the outcome.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Broadway Bulletin Board

A national magazine is willing to pay Sherman Adams a quarter of a million dollars if he'll write the memoirs of his life in Washington . . . Elvis Presley's favorite girls on this side of the Atlantic claim to have received "pacifying" overseas phone calls from him in which he explained that his cute blonde German fraulein was just a publicity stunt, nothing more . . . Oddity at the Martha Raye - Bob O'Shea nuptials: the matron of honor, Joan Crawford, didn't hold the bride's bouquet during the ceremony, with the result that the bride had terrible trouble juggling her flowers and putting on the groom's wedding ring with only two nervous hands.

It's unlikely that the name of Stanley Donen's newest romantic interest will hit the columns, although his sighing glances when they're out together leave little doubt in the minds of the Hollywood observers . . . The incident in which a rat (four - legged type) bit Virginia De Luce in a Detroit hotel lobby sounded funny when she first told about it, but it turned out to be frighteningly serious. The bite nearly killed the pretty actress, and she's still suffering from impaired nerves and can't use certain muscles. She'll sue the hotel for $1,000,000.

"Say Darling's" Robert Morse was the center of considerable attention the other night when he staged a yelling match with a young woman in front of the ANTA Theatre. Observers couldn't quite catch the plot of the drama, but young Mr. Morse kept screaming, "It's not my problem, it's yours!" and the girl was giving as good as she got . . . Doris Dowling, who made headlines a few years ago when she divorced Artie Shaw, is on a similar kick again. She has left her newest husband, film mogul Bob Blumofe, and intends to see her lawyer.

Servicemen are demanding so many pin - up pictures of Linda Cristal (they were taken to promote the movie "Perfect Furlough") that she may top Betty Grable's and Rita Hayworth's records. So far, the studio has mailed out 300,000 snapshots . . . A well - known multi -millionaire was "rolled" for almost $10,000 by a call girl who spurned the two C-notes he left on the dresser a few nights ago. He vows he'll spend as much of the family fortune as necessary to get even with her, but won't go to the law for fear of embarrassing his family.

Otto Preminger went the whole way in "divorcing" himself from his great protegee, Jean Seberg, who recenty married a Frenchman. Herr Preminger sold his exclusive contract with her to Columbia Pictures . . . Interesting rumor in counter - spy circles: they say the British Intelligence service was first to photostat "Dr. Zhivago," the Nobel prize winning novel. The American CIA got copies and (according to the reports) had it printed in Russian and given away in front of the Russian Pavilion at the Brussels Fair.

Jose Greco's reconciliation with his wife appears to have been short - lived. His companion at the Spindletop the other evening was a beautiful young brunette introduced as "one of my new dancers" . . . "Sick" is admittedly a dreary, overworked adjective among comedians these days, but it's the only one Lenny Bruce could think of to describe a revue he's opening in Hollywood. So the title will be "A Wonderfully Sick Evening."

The case of Bernard Goldfine will blow up bigger and hotter than ever as soon as congress reconvenes. The Democrats, with plenty of new information, are licking their chops . . . City desks might elicit quite a story from Mrs. Vito Genovese (now a hostess at the 82 Club on 4th St.) Her lurid testimony in their separation trial helped bring about his present indictment, but chums belived she's ready to admit she was behaving in the traditional manner of a woman scorned.

Rosalind Russell may turn up as a suprise added starter in the so - called Academy Award sweepstakes for the performance as "Auntie Mame." Already listed as sure - fire contenders are Jean Simmons, Audrey Hepburn, Millie Perkins, Liz Taylor, Maria Schell and Ingrid Bergman .

GLOBEMASTER CRASHES—A C-124 Globemaster, largest land based troop carrier the Air Force has crashed landed at Augusta, Georgia's Bush Field with 34 persons aboard. None was seriously injured. J. Hamp Manning, airport manager, said the craft, capable of carrying 200 men, was "virtually a total loss". The crash occured at the airport where President Eisenhower will land later this week. TELEVISION NOTES

Film Premieres Pretty Horrible

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — Offhand, I can't think of anything I enjoy more on TV than the telecasts of movie premieres. They satisfy lagoons of sadism, deep and darkling, within me.

Monday night, ABC-TV journeyed to the squalor of Broadway to pick up the New York debut of a Pat Boone movie whose title I have carefully forgotten. Whatever its name, it couldn't have been half as entertaining as the parade of semi-celebrities who stalked by the cameras.

It was, in two words, in-credible, a kind of too-broad burlesque of what is known in show biz as show business. Or is it the other way around? Anyway, I'll give you a sample:

—Starlet Christine Carere, finally discovering the camera after waving in the wrong direction, coyly inched her stole aside so her low cut dress would be bared.

—Gary Crosby, looking like all of the wise guys of the world rolled into one, arrived with a blonde who must have been seven feet tall and looked like all the chorus girls of the world rolled into one. As they say, you had to be there to appreciate it.

—Terry Moore and Bob Evans, seated in a horse-drawn carriage, whooshed grandly up to the front of the theater only to have the horse continue right past it. The driver backed up. The horse promptly trotted forward again. This happened three times. Finally, a dignified vhoice shouted in desperate tones to all America: "Will someone puh-leeze grab the horse?"

There were also several interviews conducted by Miss Shari Lewis that hit new peaks for this sort of thing. I give you the following:

1.) Miss Lewis: "How does swing and sway compare with rock 'n' roll?"

Sammy Kaye: "Swing and sway is nothing like rock 'n' roll."

2.) Miss Lewis (to a comic who arrived with a girl): "Where is your wife?"

Comic: "She's standing in for Chester Morris."

3.) Miss Lewis (to Gig Young and Liz Montgomery, a married couple): "When you work with each other do you bring home the problems of the script?"

Young (grimly): "We bring home problems, but not those of the script."

This sort of stuff, I submit, you just can't get in filmed television.

Air Force Revises Data On Casualties

WASHINGTON (Special) — The Air Force yesterday acknowledged that Capt. George A. Taylor, killed in a jet plane crash Saturday in Korea, was erroneously listed as a former resident of Jonesboro, La.

Upon contacting the late captain's brother in Baton Rouge last night, it was learned that the 37-year-old Air Force pilot was a native of Vicksburg, Miss.

Five other officers and one enlisted man from the 11th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron were fatally injured when the RB-66C jet reconnaissance plane plowed into the ground while attempting a landing at Kunsan Air Base, Korea, after a "routine operational mission" from Yakota Air Base, Japan.

REQUESTED

The Air Force said the plane had requested and received permission to land at Kunsan and crashed while making a "go around" for the landing. A spokesman declined to identify the area in which the plane had been flying.

No other details were immediately available. Cause of the crash was being investigated, the Air Force said.

Also listed as killed in the crash were:

Capt. James M. Stitzel, electronics officer, Butler, Ohio.

1st Lt. Thomas C. Bryce, electronics officer, Buffalo, N. Y.

S-Sgt. Howard M. Hicks, gunner, Parkersburg, W. Va.

1st Lt. Robert A. Chase, navigator, Eau Claire, Wis.

1st Lt. Smith Davis, Jr., electronics officer, New York City.

1st Lt. Lawton D. Mueller, electronics officer, Taylor Ridge, Ill.

Surviving Capt. Taylor are his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Taylor; a son, David; a daughter, Phyllis, all of Tokyo, Japan; his mother, Mrs. Agnes Taylor, Baton Rouge; and a brother, Ernest Taylor, also of Baton Rouge.

Yes, It Would Be Best If He Learned To Walk

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—It looks as if Lester O. Green finally is afoot.

First, he lost his automobile driver's license because of a drunk driving conviction.

He got a motorcycle — and was forbidden by a judge to ride it after he was arrested on another drunk driving charge.

Next, Menlo Park Policeman John Hacker reported he caught Green drunkenly pedaling a bicycle.

Municipal Judge Edward Ryan told Green to show up for trial next Monday on two charges, drunken driving and driving on the wrong side of a highway.

"And you'd better learn to walk," added the judge as he ordered Green to abandon his bike.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED

BATON ROUGE (UPI) — William G. Dodge, Covington, a sophomore at LSU, has been awarded a $150 scholarship by the Anhydrous Ammonia Dealers of Louisiana. The scholarship is awarded annually to a deserving sophomore in the agricultural engineering department at LSU.

Uses Black Light, Winds Up Red Faced

NEW YORK (AP)—In a demonstration of how to catch false alarm offenders with black light, the city fire commissioner ended up with a green hand and a red face.

Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh gave the demonstration at a fire alarm box in the Bronx. The box was treated with a fluorescent paste that glows with an eerie green color under so-called black—ultra-violet—light.

Cavanagh was to pull the handle and firemen were to shine the black light from a portable device to show how an offender could be spotted quickly. Arrangements had been made to cancel the alarm before it reached firemen in the trucks.

Cavanagh pulled the handle. Sirens screamed.

An engine company raced to the scene. Then another and another. They were joined by two fire trucks, a rescue squad, two battalion chiefs and a deputy chief.

"What the hell's going on?" yelled Fire Chief Thomas P. O'Brien, in charge of the department's communications.

He found out the alarm had gone through.

"Anyhow," said O'Brien, "it shows how fast our firemen respond to an alarm."

Body Of Elderly Woman Found In Abandoned Well

ATTICA, Ind. (AP) — The decomposed and bound body of an elderly woman was found Monday in a well at an abandoned farm 12 miles southwest of here.

Officials tentatively identified the body as that of Miss Leona Disseldorf, 72, a former teacher who had been missing from her Attica home since Sept. 26.

Police said the woman's hands and feet were bound and the body was weighted with bricks. They said they believed she had been beaten severly.

Miss Disseldorf was reported to have been carrying a large sum of money at the time she disappeared. She lived alone in Attica with her cats and dogs, but left frequently to visit friends.

The body was found by two hunters and a farmer who came to the well to get water for his tractor.

Baruch Shocked By Apathy Of American Public

NEW YORK (AP) — Bernard Baruch says he is shocked by the American public's seeming apathy toward issues of grave national importance.

A 'nothing can be done philosophy' could bring about this country's downfall from internal decay, the 88-year-old adviser to presidents said Monday.

"Down deep in our hearts," he said, "we know how to cope with inflation, how to assure our security, how to overcome all the other dilemmas that beset us."

Baruch spoke at a dinner given in his honor by B'nai B'rith. Philip M. Klutznick of Park Forest, Ill., head of the Jewish fraternal organization, presented its president's medal to the retired financier.

Klutznick said Baruch was honored for his "creative wisdom, his sense of public service and his philanthropy and humanitarianism."

Baruch characterized the public's attitude toward national security as "almost torpid," and said the nation was allowing inflation to run unchecked.

A letter from President Eisenhower addressed to "dear Bernie" was read by Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross. It praised Baruch as a "great American citizen and a warm personal friend."

Damage Suit Is Settled Out Of Federal Court

A recess settlement in the case of a Ouachita Parish school principal Wednesday morning shortly after the jury trial of his $28,531 suit against Louisiana Power and Light Company for personal damages had started in U. S. district court here.

In the suit, Joseph Conner Speir, principal of Okaloosa Elementary School, stated he received a permanent disability following a fall in the school yard on Oct. 16, 1957.

The suit continued that he tripped over a retainer pin anchored to a guywire of a power line.

Presiding over the case in U.S. District Court, Western District of Louiaiana, was Judge Ben C. Dawkins, Jr.

JURY

A 12-person jury was scheduled to determine the merits of the case, which was begun in the courtroom of the Post Office building.

During a recess early in the trial, attorneys for both sides came to a compromise, but declined to state the amount of money decided on.

Next case scheduled is that of H. P. Frank versus John Dale III and the Great American Indemnity Co.

The jury trial is due to get underway tomorrow. All other cases originally slated for this week have been settled or put off.

Cajun Story Teller Will Speak Here

Justin Wilson—The Louisianian whose Cajun stories have brought laughter all over the United States — will be at Brown Stadium Thursday for Northeast State's big pep rally which opens at 7 p.m.

The affair is being staged in preparation for Satureay night's game between the Northeast Indians and the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs which is set for 8 p.m. on Brown Field.

Wilson is being brought here by the college Student Council. All fans of Northeast are invited to the rally, Council President Lemmie Hightower announced.

The Cajun raconteur has been a featured speaker for many national, regional and local conventions. He also is well known for entertainment on numerous radio and television programs throughout the United States.

Harnett T. Kane, Louisiana author of many "best seller" novels, says of Wilson, "I know of no one who portrays the Louisiana Cajun so well, so skillfully and entertainingly. Justin has a real flair; a remarkable story-telling talent."

An associate of the Shell Refining Company wrote Wilson after his talk at the company's Ten and One Club banquet, "The most frequent comment is 'I could have listened to that fellow forever'."

The entertainer, by profession a safety consultant, has two big aims in life—to keep people from getting hurt and to make them happy.

Born in Amite, he is the son of the late Harry D. Wilson, who was Louisiana's Commissioner of Agriculture and Immigration for 32 years. He has been in safety work for varied types of industries for over 20 years. Wilson is safety consultant for private firms in Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Illinois.

He has built a national reputation as a safety consultant and teller of Cajun stories.

Several Persons Sentenced In District Court

Action in fourth district court yesterday included the sentencing of several persons.

Judge David I. Garrett fined Raymond David Bordelon, Phillip Laverne Davis and James Simmons each $300 or 60 days in jail. All three men were charged with driving while intoxicated.

Pleading guilty to disturbing the peace were Nelson Van Buren Adams and Labuis Laird. Each drew a fine of $25 or 10 days in the parish jail.

Ottis E. Reagan admitted speeding and was fined $25 or 10 days.

Quinten T. Hollis denied charges of reckless driving and failure to post bond. Trial is set for Jan. 23, 1959.

FELONY COURT

In felony court this week, the Davis trial is expected to cause postponement of all other scheduled trials.

The week's docket, as previously scheduled, is:

Tuesday: Bynum Patterson, Sr., charged with murder; Floyd Bridges, charged with two counts of theft of a tire and wheel valued at $30 and four counts of simple burglary.

Wednesday: Nina Ford, charged with theft of $4,539.48; Robert Gayle, charged with theft of $726.13; and A. J. Taylor, to be tried on four counts of theft totalling $365.

Thursday: Mrs. William W. Summers, charged with issuing a worthless check for $353.70; Edward Flucus and William Roy Fox, charged with simple burglary; Sterling Barrilleaux and Emma E. Shankers alias Emma Barrilleaux, charged with theft of $25; Melvin Lightsey, charged with theft of a $70 boat.

Friday: Harry Boyer, charged with theft of a $35 pistol; Jesse Dean Odom and Huey P. Wheeler, charged with forgery; Curtis O. Stringer, charged with theft of an auto valued at $175; and Jessie "Red" McGuire, charged with aggravated battery.

Child To Get Big Isolation Booth For Dollhouse

NEW YORK (AP)—The 10-year-old daughter of Stanley Goldman of Lawrence, N.Y., is going to have the biggest doll house on the block. Her daddy bought her an isolation booth.

Goldman and Bernard Berg of River Edge, N.J., were announced Monday as the buyers in an auction of two booths from the ABC-TV show "Who Do You Trust?" Each paid $150.

Goldman is going to convert his into a super doll house for his daughter. Berg will use his as a poolside bath house.

The booths are 4x4x8 feet, sound-proofed, with glass doors and wall-to-wall carpeting.

The booths became worthless when format of the show was changed, hence an ad to sell them.

The "dignity" of the successful buyers was the determining factor.

Offers came from:

A mother—to isolate her young trumpet player.

A transport firm — the shelter pier watchmen on cold nghts.

A midtown bar — for solitary drinkers.

Swift Dam Set For Production

COUGAR, Wash. (AP) — The Swift Dam, one of the world's largest, was finished Monday, and late in the winter will begin producing power.

The dam, in the higher foothills of the Cascade Mountains, has an installed power capacity of 250,000 kilowatts. Production will begin when a 12-mile-long lake behind the dam reaches an operating level.

Hot-Check Pair Caught In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — A smartly-dressed couple who allegedly financed a free-spending coast-to-coast trip with worthless checks were apprehended in a Fifth Avenue department store after they had tried to cash another check.

Police said Eugene Marcus Scott, 45 and his wife, Margaret Pratt Scott, 36, unhappy in their jobs as handyman and maid for a Greenwich, Conn., family, left without giving notice last summer, taking a hotel credit card and a number of checks with them.

The couple, who had been living under the name of Spencer at the Hotel Prescott, were picked up by detectives shortly before closing time at Best's department store yesterday.

Suspicious store officials had called police before cashing a check written by Mrs. Scott.

Mrs. Scott had signed the name of Mrs. Irving T. Smith to the check and showed the department store officials a hotel credit card as identification.

The Smiths, of Greenwich, Conn., were the Scotts' employers for about a month and a half up until last August, police learned later.

Through the canceled checks, police traced the couple's movements to Boston, Washington, D. C., Florida, New Orleans, Texas and California. They are wanted on a forgery charge in Washington, D. C.

About the only one not defrauded by the Scotts, police said, was Sheriff William Stephen of St. Martin Parish, La.

A receipt from the sheriff showed the couple had paid $100 for a cow and a calf they had run down and killed with a car.

The shrewd lawman would only accept cash payment for the damages.

Screams At Cop In Drunk Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Auto heir Horace Dodge II's wife screamed "That's outrageous — and you know it!" during her trial on a drunk charge.

Mrs. Gregg Sherwood Dodge sat quietly when police officer Lawrence Brown told Municipal Court her speech was slurred and profane when she was arrested Aug. 26.

But when she said her evening gown was mussed and a shoulder strap was disarranged, the blonde actress shouted angry denial. When the judge told her to be quiet, she said: "Well, he is lying."

Ham Operators Come To Aid Of Orphaned Kids

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Amateur radio operators in four southern states are contributing to an educational fund for the orphaned children of a fellow ham operator killed in a plane crash.

The idea for the fund developed yesterday, the day after Joseph Clem Rhodes, 30, his wife Evelyn, 28, and their 18-month-old son, Jeffrey, were killed in the crash of a light plane near the Washington, Ga., airfield.

The other two Rhodes children, Ronnie, 8, and Barry, 7, were at home at the time and now are staying with their grandfather in Washington.

Andrew J. Farr of Hapeville, Ga., radio officer for the amateru civil emergency system for Georgia Civil Defense, said Georgia hams first started to raise money for a floral tribute and then decided an education fund would be more appropriate.

Amateur operators in Alabama, Tennessee and Louisiana heard about the plan through the ham network.

Sister Of Beck Sobs On Stand

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—The sister of former Teamsters president Dave Beck Sr. testified with sobs Monday that her brother was a benefactor who looked out for her security but rarely explained about finances.

"Sir, I don't remember when I first acquired those shares of stock," said Mrs. Rita Henne, 63, when questioned about 100 shares of Sick's Seattle Brewery Co. stock bought in her name.

"They were given to me by my brother to help me as security for the future because I work."

The widow, a year younger than Beck, wrung her hands and stopped occasionally to dry tears as she testified at his trial for evasion of $240,000 in income taxes in 1950-53.

The government seeks to show that the portly ex-union official profited from stock transactions involving his relatives and associates.

Mrs. Henne was asked what she did with dividend checks.

"Some of them I cashed, some I turned back to my brother. I gave them to him to do what he saw fit. He has full power of attorney to sign my name on anything or to help me in any way."

Earlier a Seattle Teamsters official testified his endorsement was forged on at least four checks —one for $10,913—that had been co-endorsed by Beck.

D. W. Marshall, head of promotions for Teamsters' Joint Council 28, examined photostats of checks issued to him for dividends or sale of brewery stock and asked if they bore his endorsement.

"No sir," he said.

Marshall testified he held 4,287 shares of Sick's stock between 1940 and 1947 but had not paid for a single share. He said he actually owned only 25 shares given him as a Christmas bonus and the rest was bought for him by Beck.

He said in 1946 or 1947 Beck asked him to assign the stock to others.

"I signed some over to Mrs. Henne, some over to Dave Beck Jr., and some in blank," he said.

Find Airman Dead In Utah; One Missing

HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Utah (AP)—Another of the eight men who parachuted from a crippled C119 9cargo plane last Friday was found dead Monday.

That left one still missing. His chance of survival seemed slim.

Four were found alive and three dead.

A helicopter spotted the body of Lt. Donald E. Born, 28, of Andover, N.Y. He was the co-pilot.

The search continued for the navigator, Capt. Donald Liggett, 40, Indianapolis, Ind.

Liggett and Born bailed out of the plane, which had lost one of its two engines during a snowstorm, together. They jumped a few minutes after the plane's two enlisted crewmen and three passengers, and a few minutes before the pilot, Capt. Harry O. Blount, 33, Great Falls, Mont.

Born's body was found, wrapped for warmth in his parachute, about four miles west of where Blount landed.

Blount was found safe about eight hours later. Two of the first five who jumped died of cold and exposure.

Temperatures were near or below zero at times. Snowfall was heavy in the mountains east of this northern Utah base, which was the destination and base of the plane on a training flight.

Born was a native of Walker, Minn. He lived with his wife, the former Barbara Witenberg of Andover, and their three children in nearby Clearfield while he was stationed at this base.
